

Pastor Leaves Wesley

The Rev. J. Harmon Holt of New Madrid, minister of the Wesley Methodist Church, 600 Pine St., for the past two years has been transferred to Hayward, Mo.

The announcement was made at the annual session of the United Methodist Church East Conference, ending today at Fayette, Mo.

Rev. Holt will serve the Hayward community in his retirement. The town is located near Portageville.

Rev. Holt has lived in New Madrid for over a year. He has three sons, two of whom are ministers.

The Rev. James Holt is pastor of the Ripley County Circuit, serving seven churches. The Rev. Charles Holt is pastor of the Faubion Chapel Methodist Church in Kansas City. Another son, Dr. Robert L. Holt is a professor of organic chemistry at Northeast Louisiana State College.

Rev. Holt is a member of the Masonic Order and holds a 32nd degree in that organization. He holds certificates of appreciation for cooperation from the American Cancer Society and Delta Head Start program.

Commenting on his years at Sikeston, Rev. Holt said, "We had wonderful two years. There are some wonderful people in Sikeston. Everyone was very kind to us."

Other ministerial appointments made by the conference include Rev. Wilfred House of Charleston to Moberly Trinity, Rev. Robert Hester to Monroe County Parish from Piedmont, Rev. A. Z. Alcorn to Ellington from Marquand, Rev. Glenn Ruhl to St. Paul's in St. Louis from Kennett, and Rev. Paul Skaggs to Essex from Esther; District Bell City, John Maynard from Caruth; Charleston, William Mathae from Creve Coeur; East Prairie, Ray Earls from Memphis; Poplar Bluff First, B. W. Powell from Mexico.

Changes in Cape Girardeau - Farmington District included:

Benton - Commerce, W. K. Harper from Wright City; Elvins, J. Carl Franks from Puxico; Esther circuit, Don Kuehle from Haywood; Jackson, Ronald Wood from St. Louis; Lowndes Circuit, Noah Mitchell from Van Buren; Old Appleton Circuit, George Nothdurst from Idaho; Old Union Circuit, Henry Hefner from St. Johns De Soto; Sedgewickville, David Shultz from Parkia.

In addition Homer Morris was named new superintendent of the Hannibal-Kirkville district.

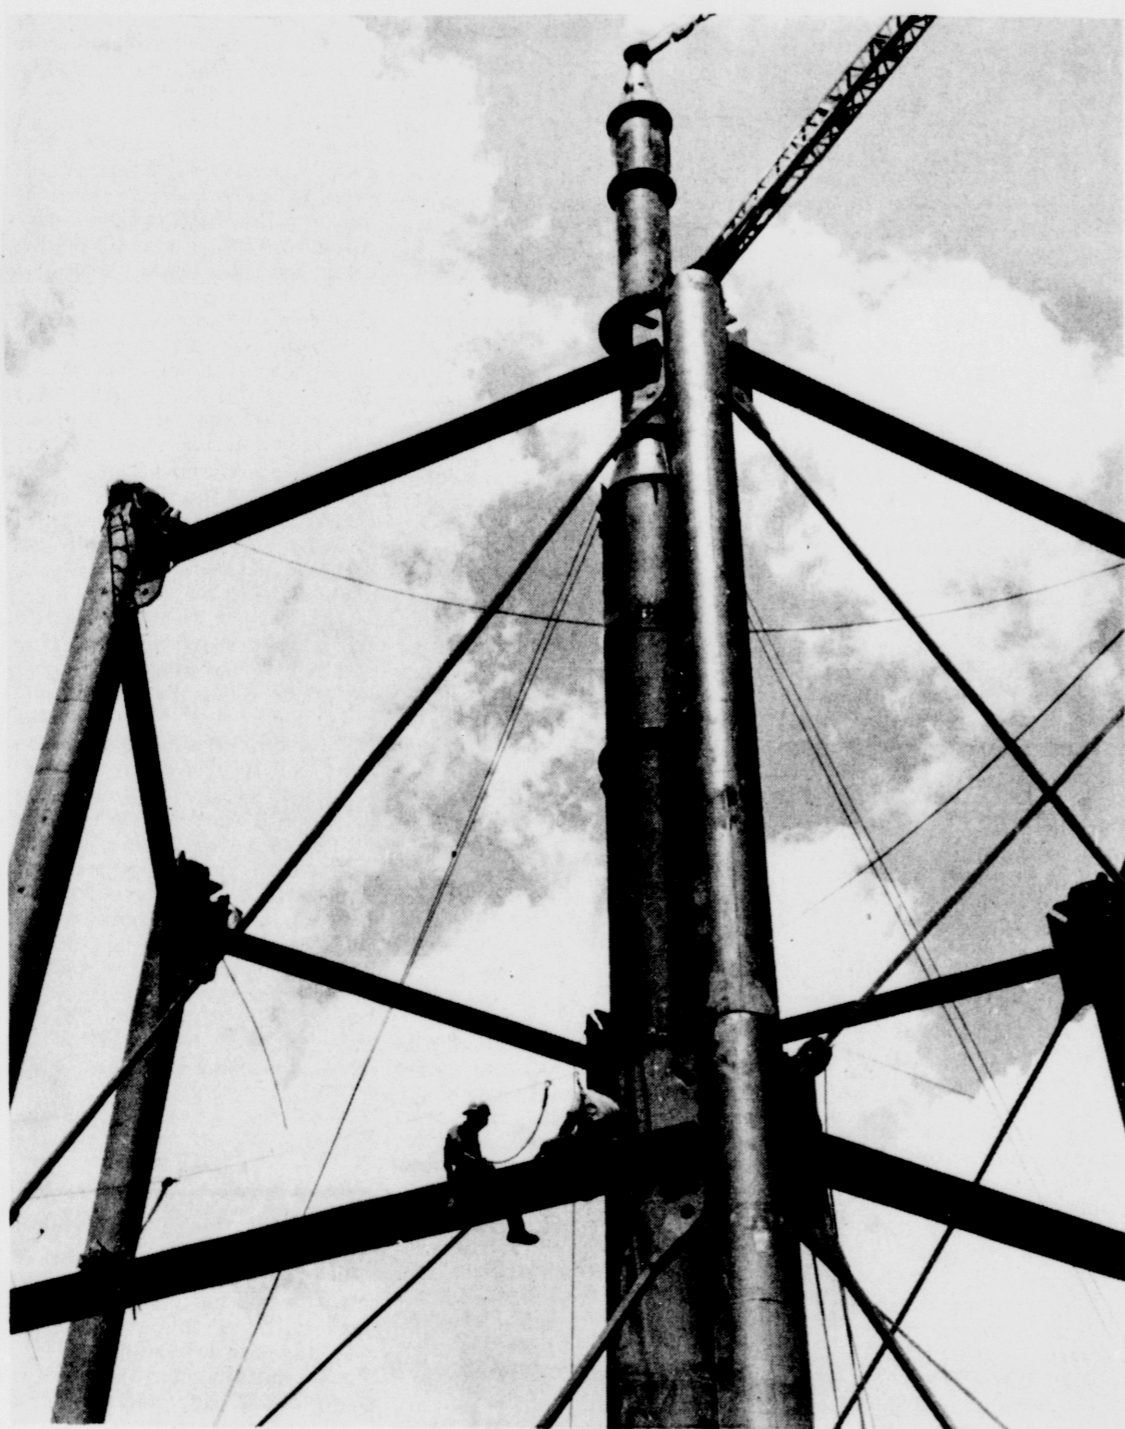

Morris will replace Dr. Ralph Hicks as superintendent of the Hannibal-Kirkville District. The latter is retiring and will live in Kansas City and be on the staff of the North Cross Church in North Kansas City.

Truck Collides With Trailer

A truck-trailer accident occurred at 3:52 p.m. yesterday on North Main street in front of the Security National Bank.

A truck driven by James Hodges, route four, was struck by a trailer which had come loose from tractor being driven by Loy Freeman, 212 North Prairie. The tractor and trailer belong to one city of Sikeston.

WORK CONTINUES on a 140-foot high water tower being built on Northwest St., near the steam plant. The 500,000 gallon capacity tower is being constructed by Chicago Bridge and Iron Works of Chicago.

New Water Tower Going Up

A 500,000-gallon capacity water tower is being built on Northwest street as part of a $200,000 sewer and water improvement program.

The tower, costing $121,500, is being constructed by Chicago Bridge and Iron Company of Chicago. It will be 140 feet high and is located near the steam plant. The tower will give the city two elevated towers and one ground level tank and will provide more water storage and better line pressure.

Construction of additional 12-inch water and sewer lines will begin soon. Ray Clinton

Construction Co. will build the sewer lines and C and B Construction Co. of Eldon will lay the water lines.

A well will be dug soon for additional water. It will be located within 400 feet of the water plant on Center street. At present the city has six wells.

Blytheville, Memphis Men Die of Accident Injuries

Two men died Thursday from injuries in highway accidents. A Blytheville man died as the result of an accident Wednesday night in Pemiscot County. A Memphis man died from injuries in a crash at the west edge of New Madrid, the state patrol reported.

Eston Gwaltney, 64, of Blytheville died Thursday morning in the Baptist hospital in Memphis, after a collision, on route D, at 6:15 p.m. Wednesday.

The patrol said Gwaltney was driving a 1956 Chevrolet when he pulled in front of a 1959 Ford station wagon, driven by

Alvin Smith, 47, Steele. Five others were injured in the collision.

Gwaltney's body was taken to the Cobb Funeral Home in Blytheville.

The Memphis man was dead on arrival at the Missouri Delta Community hospital after his car struck a bridge pillar Thursday at 11:50 a.m. on Interstate 55. He was Harold Parker Wolf Jr., 43, driver of a 1965 Chevrolet station wagon.

He was traveling south when he apparently fell asleep, ran off the road and struck the support. His body was taken from Richards Funeral Home in New Madrid, to the Memphis Funeral Home.

Thursday at 6:45 p.m. on route W, four miles north of Poplar Bluff, Richard Garver, 29, Quinn, driver of a 1958 Ford pickup truck, collided with a 1965 Ford one-ton truck, driven by Hubert Ezel, 27, Poplar Bluff.

Garver's truck veered over the center line and struck the Ezel truck, the state patrol charged.

Garver received a fractured jaw and possible internal injuries. He was taken to Lucy Lee hospital in Poplar Bluff.

Hungate Bats for Delta Queen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William L. Hungate, D - Mo., asked a House marine subcommittee Thursday to allow the last Mississippi River sternwheel steamboat in service to continue until a replacement is completed in 1970.

The Delta Queen, which plies

the Mississippi, Tennessee, Ohio and Cumberland rivers, is in violation of federal laws requiring vessels carrying overnight passengers on inland waterways to be of all steel construction.

The boat, which was built in 1926, has a steel hull but a wooden superstructure. Because of the part wood construction the craft is required to dock permanently in November.

The owners say they believe it will take another year to put a replacement into service and that the time gap would cause an irreversible loss in business.

32 Enemy Industrial Park for Missiles City Now Assured Located

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. soldiers scouring Saigon's rocket belt Thursday found 32 enemy missiles and killed 26 guerrillas. But despite the 12,000 allied troops combing the area, the Viet Cong fired four rockets into Tan Son Nhut airbase, killing one American and damaging a plane.

Saigon itself escaped attack for the third straight day.

The biggest cache of rockets was found by men of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division six miles northeast of the capital. They uncovered and destroyed 22 rounds of 107mm Chinese rockets, which made their first appearance in the Vietnam war last February.

Troops of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division accounted for 10 of the big 122mm Soviet rockets with which the Viet Cong has been blasting at Saigon since May 5. Nine were found in four sampans submerged in a canal nine miles northwest of Saigon, and the 10th was located at a firing site five miles northwest of the capital.

The 26 guerrillas were killed in two clashes, and six U.S. soldiers were wounded.

In addition to the thousands of allied troops searching in a radius of seven miles around the capital, the distance from which the big enemy rockets can hit the city, more radar equipment reportedly has been installed to pinpoint the enemy launching sites for counterfire.

While U.S. military officials believe they can reduce the rocket attacks on Saigon, they say there is no way to eliminate them. The Viet Cong always will be able to sneak a few men and rockets through the allied patrols, they say.

Captured Viet Cong also have reported that the ground attack on the city will be renewed Saturday.

NEW MADRID -- Officials from Pacific and Missouri, including Gov. Warren E. Hearnes, will be present for the ceremony.

Proctor has opened an office at Main and Mott streets.

Proctor said that his primary task will be to plan and supervise construction of a wire and rod mill in New Madrid's industrial park, known as St. Jude industrial park.

The mill, which will employ 100 and will cost $6 million, is scheduled to be in production next May.

The mill will be built in conjunction with a $70 million aluminum reduction plant.

Proctor, a native of Carrollton, Ga., formerly was associated with Southwire Company, a producer of rod and cable, where he specialized in design and installation of wire and rod manufacturing machinery.

He is married and has one child. He plans to move his family to New Madrid.

Tennis Will Be Offered

Tennis instruction by appointment will be offered at the high school according to an announcement made today by David Miller, coordinator of the summer recreation program.

Mrs. Jane Roby, East Prairie, physical education instructor, will be the teacher.

Volleyball teams will be organized for children 13 years or older if enough interest is shown.

Eleven are employed to supervise the program at five schools.

Working at Lee Hunter are Linda Bennett, Penny Bryant and Rick Wilson. At Lincoln school is Betty Redd and Willie Joe Harrington, Jr.

Supervising at the junior high school is Robert Matthews and

Two Injured In Collision

Area-end collision resulted in injuries to two yesterday. The accident was one of two investigated by police.

At 3 p.m., a car driven by James E. Brown, 730 Matthews St., stuck the car driven by Dorothy C. Meredith, route two, on East Malone Avenue.

The accident occurred when the Meredith car stopped waiting to turn into the A and B laundry.

Mrs. Meredith received neck injuries and Brown received injuries to his right leg, back and neck. They were treated at the Missouri Delta Community hospital.

Both cars were damaged and Brown was given a summons by the police for careless and imprudent driving.

BOSTON (AP)—The jury in the antidraft conspiracy trial of Dr. Benjamin Spock and four other men received the case today after the judge told them: "Conspiracy is the crucial issue here."

In his closing remarks, U.S. District Judge Francis J.W. Ford also said there can be "no defense or excuse whatsoever under the law for individuals to willfully and intentionally violate laws on religious and moral grounds."

Ford told the 12-man jury, however, that it could not find a defendant guilty merely because he associated with other defendants, but only if he took an active part in an alleged conspiracy.

"We are not trying the morality, the legality, or the constitutionality of the Vietnam War, nor are we trying the morality, legality, or constitutionality of the Selective Service law, or the right of a person to protest the war," Ford said.

On trial with the 65-year-old pediatrician are Yale Chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr., 43; Michael Ferber, 23, a Harvard graduate student; Mitchell Goodman, 44, a writer and teacher; and Marcus Raskin, 34, a Washington research director.

They are charged with conspiring to aid, abet and counsel young men to violate draft laws, a federal crime which carries maximum penalties of five-year prison terms and $10,000 fines.

Mayor Kendall Sikes said that the program might not be offered next year if more interest is not shown during the remaining seven weeks of the program.

Guitar lessons will be offered by David Entekin starting Monday at 9 a.m. The one-hour lessons will be for beginners who will use their own instruments.

Entekin will be at Southwest Monday, junior high on Tuesday, the high school on Wednesday, Lee Hunter on Thursday and Lincoln on Friday.

TRACY, Minn. (AP)—A tornado roared through Tracy with death and destruction Thursday evening, killing at least 10 persons and wrecking up to 300 homes.

More than a dozen persons were missing, and more than 20 were hospitalized.

Seven bodies were recovered in the dark hours following the powerful twister, and three were discovered this morning as National Guardsmen and Civil Defense workers began search and cleanup operations.

The bodies found after daybreak included that of a man found near town in an open field, near his car, and two persons in another vehicle.

Some of the demolished homes, nearly half the dwellings in the community, had vanished except for their concrete front steps and foundations. Some homes had plumbing intact, but little else. Two boxcars lifted from railroad tracks had blown over rooftops and smashed down three blocks away in the area of destruction, so cluttered it resembled a large junkyard.

Streets were bulldozed of debris, to permit workmen to get through. Tracy's mayor ordered the town sealed off from sightseers, with entry permits granted to persons with valid reasons to be in Tracy.

The Tracy hospital said 72 persons were admitted and 22 remained overnight. Eleven were listed in critical condition.

Grand Jury Testimony Covers Sirhan's Actions During and Before Shooting

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Twelve hours before Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's assassination, witnesses say, the accused man was rapid-firing the death weapon on a target range.

Other witnesses say three bullets hit Kennedy—not two, as previously reported—and that the killer stepped from beside a smiling, shapely mystery girl and fired his revolver with "a very sick-looking smile on his face."

These were highlights of testimony made public Thursday by the county grand jury which last Friday indicted Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, a 24-year-old Jordanian immigrant, for the murder. The transcript—258 double-spaced typewritten pages—became public when filed with the county clerk.

Twenty-two witnesses—Sirhan not among them—pictured the slaying scene of terror and hysteria and its aftermath:

The kitchen area of the Ambassador Hotel jammed early June 5 with jubilant supporters escorting the New York senator and celebrating his victory in California's Democratic presidential primary...

Eight .22-caliber bullets exploding in "a deliberate... bang-bang cadence" like firecrackers or popping toy balloons...

Kennedy falling, fatally wounded, rearing back sharply. "Both hands went up. He was just about to shake hands..."

Five bystanders falling wounded... The crowd's stunned, screaming reaction: "The suspect turned... and was trying to escape... People were trying—were hitting him and cursing at him, and it was utter confusion. I mean everyone was trying to kill him."

Testimony from hotel employees, police and medical men gave this picture:

A half hour before the shooting, Sirhan had been waiting in the hotel kitchen, asking a porter three or four times if the senator was expected to pass through.

From the Embassy Room stage where he had proclaimed victory, Kennedy was led by the hand by a hotel employee to the place where Sirhan was standing.

The employee, an assistant maitre d', said the kitchen passage was due to a last minute change of mind, that earlier Kennedy had been expected to go downstairs to address a group unable to get into the main ballroom. The employee did not say why the plan was changed.

Henry Adrian Carreon, an elementary school playground director and police science major at East Los Angeles College, testified he and a friend, David Montellano, were target-shooting about noon June 4 on the San Gabriel Valley Gun Club's pistol range.

"To the left of us there was an individual around five feet away, shooting very rapidly on the range with a revolver," said Carreon. "On the range you are supposed to shoot and pause. Usually the range officer goes up to the individual shooting in this manner and he will inform them that it's not supposed to be done..."

Carreon identified the individual from photos as Sirhan.

A GOOD QUESTION—AND ANSWER!

Warner & Swasey, precision machinery manufacturers of Cleveland, asks a good question in their recent "editorial" advertisement appearing in magazines . . .
"Are your workers sure you're going to be in business 10 years from now?"

And then their answer is the guts of a message that too many college professors, "new" economists, government specialists and advisers and even union bosses and members tend to forget or overlook so we reprint it as follows:

"They are, if they're constantly after you to invest the money to assure it. Not just money to replace obsolete equipment but real money to displace anything and everything which can be improved. They know that every time a competitor buys something better something in your plant is made obsolete, some cost in your plant inches higher by comparison.

"And low-cost competitors are the goblins that will get you when business gets tough."

And, frankly, in too many of the world markets we are now pricing ourselves out of competition because management and labor are still at war with each other. And government's tax bite is reducing each other. And government's tax bite is reducing investment in improved machinery, too.

VIOLENCE IN AMERICAN LIFE

If violence, in the words of Negro militant H. Rap Brown, is "as American as cherry pie" realization of that fact still has come as a bitter shock. Violence is the subject of constant and at times obsessive discussion, not because it is new in American life but because its current manifestations are different than in the past. It is spread throughout society and is associated with not one but a dozen issues and causes, including racial rioting student rebellions, and anti war movements.

The shooting of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in Los Angeles coming barely two months after the assassination of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., served to fortify the impression that violence in America is out of control. Kennedy's statement acknowledging victory in the California Democratic primary, delivered minutes before he was shot included a remark deploring violence.

According to Daniel Moynihan head of the M.I.T.-Harvard Joint Center for Urban Studies "The sheer effort to hold things together has become the central issue of politics in a nation that began the decade intent on building a society touched with moral grandeur."

The nation's population is reacting to the latest threats to its security by indulging in an orgy of gun buying which has put 50 million guns in about half of all U. S. homes mostly for purposes of "self-defense." The political pressures stemming from public unrest over the violence of the Viet Nam war have become so great that President Johnson's decision not to seek another term can be viewed as one of the results U. N. Secretary General U. Thant has blamed "the prevailing mood of violence in the United States and elsewhere" on the psychological climate created by the war.

Psychiatrists and sociologists warn that the nation's children are being conditioned to accept violence as normal through a steady diet of mayhem on TV and movie screens. Psychiatrist Fredric Wertham accuses the mass media of trampling on children's "innate capacity for sympathy." Acts of murder and serious sadism are reported regularly among young children, whereas a generation ago such crimes were rare.

Numerous observers have noted that our current problems have their roots in the violent beginnings and development of the nation. Revolutionary American was familiar with the use of mob violence against the British, but occasionally the mob frightened American leaders themselves. In his Autobiography John Adams wrote, "If the power of the country should get into such hands . . . to what purpose have we sacrificed our time, health and everything else? Surely we must guard against this spirit . . . or we shall repent of all our conduct." But America was to become a land where killing Indians became part of frontier life, where enslavement of Negroes was justified as "parentalism," and where class warfare found expression in a bloody labor history.

The reasons for man's violence are debated among students of human and animal behavior. Biologist and psychiatrist Konrad Lorenz believes that animals and man possess a fundamental aggressive instinct which serves the purpose of conserving, rather than of destroying the species. While predatory animals have inhibitions which prevent them of killing their own, only man, standing at the forefront of animal development, is in danger of suffering destruction from his aggressive instinct.

His powers of verbal speech and conceptual thought have enabled him to invent sophisticated weapons and establish complicated social patterns but his instincts for controlling his inventions have not kept pace with these products of his brain. The great question is, says Lorenz, "will man gain sufficient knowledge of himself before he destroys himself?"

Psychologists who favor instinctive theories of aggression are at odds with those who see violence as a reaction learned in society. "The fault," says social biologist Ashley Montagu, "lies not in our nature, but in our nurture." As he sees it, the failure to humanize children by teaching them to love "during the first half dozen years of . . . childhood results in a progressive dehumanization which leads to every kind of destructive behavior."

Until now man has been able to eat his neighbor or gas and bomb him to death without ending the world but his margin of safety has disappeared. While they differ over the origin of man's aggressiveness social scientist agree that his behavior can be modified. William James proposed more than a half century ago a "moral equivalent of war" so that young men could develop hardness and self discipline without bloodshed. He suggested a period of service for the country - a sort of domestic Peace Corps.

Kenneth Keniston contends that the issue of violence "is to this generation what the issue of sex was to the Victorian world; The fact of violent upheaval and the possibility of cataclysm has been interwoven with the development of a whole generation." Social scientists may differ over the origin of man's aggressiveness but they generally agree that his behavior can be modified. Some believe that the way to start is to debunk the myth that a man with a gun is the embodiment of masculine virtue and glory.

There never was a king, were he not afraid of the queen, who would not flirt with the cook.

It is as hard for the restaurant keeper to smile if his tables are not filled at meal time as it is for a girl to smile in the ball room when her program is empty.

RE FATHER'S DAY: If you are buying something for Dad in the apparel line, make every effort to learn his correct size. If it's a shirt sweater or anything else that has to fit - take a sneak-peek at those in his bureau drawer for the size. There's nothing more disappointing for a recipient than to receive something that pleases greatly - but doesn't fit

The immediate reaction to the news of the shooting of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy mingles disbelief shock, sorrow and compassion for the Kennedy family.

The family has contributed more than should be expected to the nation's welfare.

President John F. Kennedy was cut down by an assassin in a senseless shooting.

Senator Kennedy's shooting is equally regrettable and unfortunate.

The Kennedy's not only have put their lives on the line in efforts to serve their fellow citizens in the presidency but their fortunes as well. Both have been heavy campaign spenders.

While the grief of President Lyndon B. Johnson is sincere, he talks about purging the nation of hate as if it could be dispelled by his words.

It is unfortunate that it cannot. Other methods must be used to counteract the hate that always will be with us.

Television campaigning may become the only safe way to seek presidency in this crime ridden country.

This is unfortunate.

President Johnson himself is not at his best on television but effective in man to man conversation.

Ironically, Senator Kennedy, while effective on television, packed his biggest campaign punch while mingling in crowds where young people especially flocked to his side.

President Johnson lost no time in assigning the secret service to presidential candidates and their families after Kennedy was shot in a Los Angeles hotel.

This protection may not be sufficient.

The minimum expectation from Congress is passage of a gun control law and legislation giving law enforcement the opportunity once more to deal effectively with crime.

Recent United States supreme court opinions hobble peace officers and discriminate against law abiding citizens while giving criminals every advantage.

A way must be found to make punishment for crime certain in this country.

Whatever judicial and law enforcement reforms are necessary to accomplish this must be taken.

This lack of certainty of punishment explains the rising crime rate in the United States and why crime is less of a problem in other nations.

Crime must be discouraged.

NEW YORK (AP) — No one quite knows what to do on a rainy day.

Life seems to have loose ends. Children feel wistful and unpurposeful. So do grownups, if the truth be told.

One of the ways to fill time on a rainy day is to take pen and paper and make a list of things you might have done in life but haven't.

It can be a revealing catalogue. For example, your list might reveal that you have yet to—

Beat a big bass drum in a parade.
Cry "Thar she blows!" at the sight of a surfacing whale.
Exchange bows with an emperor penguin.
Walk across America.
Win a straw vote.

Break the heart of a redhaired girl.
Understand a poem by Allen Ginsberg.
Plant an oak tree.
Keep curious strangers in the hotel room below awake all night by refusing to drop the other shoe.

Open a can of sardines and find a live one in the crowd.
Box a compass.
Paddle your own canoe in Venice.

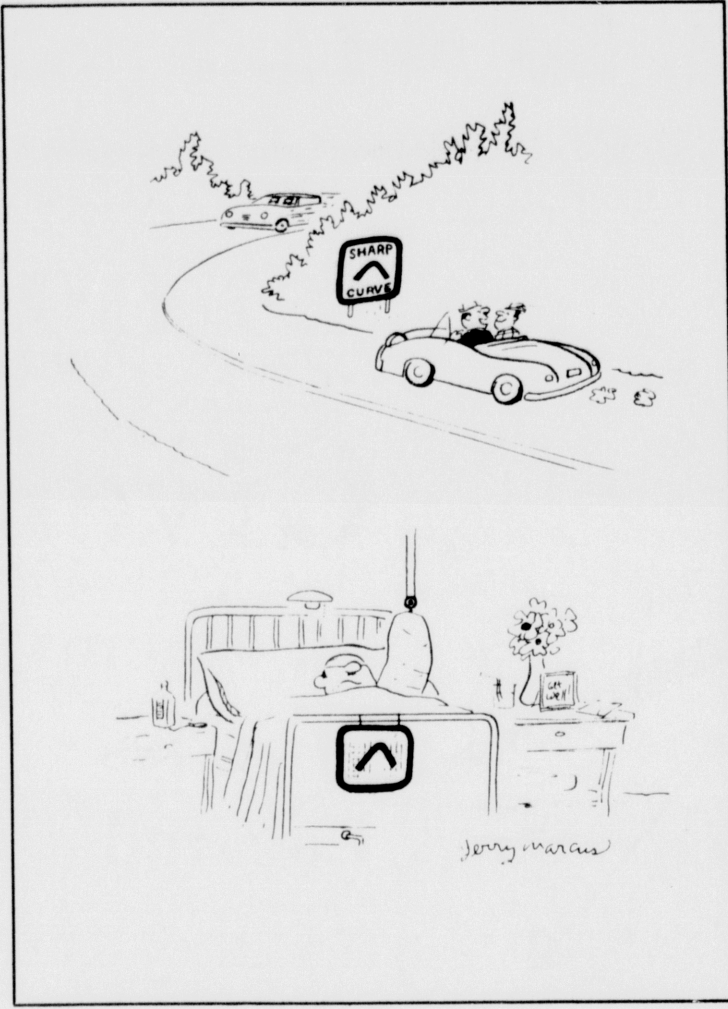

Paint the town a real bright red.
Halt a lynch mob in Dodge City.
Salt a gold mine and sell it to a greenhorn.
Address a joint session of the Congress.
Become the secret pen pal of Gen. Charles de Gaulle.
Trade barbecue sauce recipes with Lyndon Johnson.
Carve your initials on the Taj Mahal.

Build a castle in Spain.
Impress a teen-ager by convincing him there's one person in the world over 30 he can trust.
Hold a convention in a phone booth.
Break up a solemn-faced Buckingham Palace guard with a funny story.
Sing a duet with Julie Andrews.

Share a toasted marshmallow with Julie Christie beside a campfire in the wilderness.
Acquire a vested interest.
Pull a rabbit out of a cap.
Almost anyone can pull one out of a hat.
Yep, when on a rainy day you write down a list of all the things you haven't done, you can hardly wait for the sunshine to break through—so you can get cracking!

There's no solution that doesn't raise another problem.

Take the problem of young people facing the tremendous cost of a college education and one solution offered - loans from banks, savings associations and credit unions.

Government - guaranteed bank loans to college students may be "creating a new social problem on a new basis," warns Chicago banker R. W. Foote.

I hate to think of some of our customers who marry each other," he says, "and each of them will have this payment due the bank for the ensuing five years (following graduation)."

paralyzed its delivery trucks and, for a time, disrupted publication of the biggest newspaper empire in West Germany.

The attack on the Springer publications was widely interpreted as pro-communist since Axel Springer is so vigorously anti-communist that he has built a $25,000,000 new publishing house practically astride the Berlin wall as an act of defiance to East Germany.

His newspapers, including Die Welt, the New York Times of West Germany; Bild-Zeitung, the largest circulating paper on the European continent; and half a dozen others, all follow a strongly pro-American, anti-Hitler, pro-Israel line.

It was the riots against the Springer publications which touched off a chain reaction of students all over the world in which, incidentally, communist universities have suffered almost as much as western universities.

WASHINGTON—The student revolt which started with an attack on Springer newspapers in Berlin last spring has now swept around the world. Did it result from an international conspiracy? Is there a student underground linking the ivy halls of Columbia in New York with the crowded communist universities of Belgrade, Warsaw, Cracow and Prague?

This column, after extensive research, is able to report that there is an international student conspiracy. Mark Rudd, who for a time closed down Columbia University, visited Fidel Castro in Cuba shortly before he brought anarchy to Columbia. A delegation of Latin American students visited the United States this spring shortly before trouble broke out on American campuses. Danny Cohn-Bendit, the French-Communist student revolutionary, also visited the United States shortly before trouble erupted here.

The spiritual, though perhaps unwitting, Godfather of the campus revolt is Prof. Herbert Marcuse of the University of California at San Diego, who recently visited Rudi Dutschke, the left-wing German student hospitalized after the Berlin student riots.

It was after Dutschke was beaten up that leftist German students stormed the Springer newspaper building in Berlin, occupied its lower floor,

So Jim went home about midnight, took off his shoes at the door and tip-toed inside. He rummaged around in the top drawer of the dresser and made such a disturbance that his wife stirred in her sleep and called out, "Who dat?"

Jim paused in his search for a few minutes and then began again. He rattled the drawer and once more his wife roused from her sleep, called out "Who dat?" Jim waited for a few moments and then resumed his search.

He knocked over a chair and this time the voice that called out "Who dat?" from the darkness was a deep, husky bass.

Gone was Jim's air of furtive secrecy. He rushed over to the bed and with a bellow of rage shouted, "Who dat say dat las 'Who dat?'"

NEW UNIONISM:
Reuther Woos Teamsters Into National Political Network of "Community Action Councils."

Washington, D.C.: — On the afternoon before the grim night of labor movement, Bob Kennedy was cut down, based on completely some of his most devoted restructured unions.

These would not be along activists met with powerful Teamsters leaders in the latter's craft lines, but on a mass base of Western headquarters just common labor and community interests. He wants to build outside of San Francisco.

It was a colorful gathering of powerful men, one of whom conglomerate corporations. Thus, last April, Reuther put history by being cut down at the feeters out to the Teamsters. late Senator's side. He is the This was not difficult. Some of auto unions' regional director, his colleagues have had long and Paul Schrade, who had flown up friendly relations with Jimmy Hoffa since 1935. And through building to meet with Walter Reuther, and Teamsters second of vice president Elmer Mohn, also a difficult to find as a flock of whooping cranes.

The gathering was evidence of the cordial coalition which has been welded between the big auto union and the gargantuan Teamsters brotherhood. It was the fourth such high command session in less than two months.

These men talked of Bob Kennedy's coming primary victory as though it were inevitable. And they talked of the national election.

And mostly they listened to the Detroit redhead explain what he saw on the new horizon: a network of Community Action Councils spreading like steel mesh right smack across the nation, a network of units reaching into hundreds of cities, a network based on the United Auto Workers' 1200 locals and the Teamsters' 900 branches. A network binding 3.5 billion unionists into a massive phalanx.

As always, Reuther was eloquent. The councils would reach into the Watts, the Harlems, the East Chicagos, the black and Mexican-American communities, and the working poor.

The network would be far more than political. It would coordinate collective bargaining, joint organizing and community poverty programming.

Of course, in those final hours of the California primary, campaign politics tipped every tongue. Reuther had pledged his support to Bob Kennedy.

The late Senator had telephoned him and urged the redhead to organize a "Labor For Kennedy Committee," as George Meany had done for Hubert Humphrey.

"Walter" told "Bob" that the wiser thing to do would be first to win delegates, and then to come in with a powerful labor committee.

And so the auto union's organization had swung into action, and Reuther had flown to the coast to help where he could.

But politics is not the motivating force of this very cordial entente between the auto union and the Teamsters. Reuther wants the Community Action Council network to tackle the bit AFL-CIO, and prove that the older labor leaders should be dispatched to the Smithsonian Institution.

Reuther says there's a new era and it must be matched by a new kind of labor movement. Bob Kennedy was cut down, based on completely some of his most devoted restructured unions.

These would not be along activists met with powerful Teamsters leaders in the latter's craft lines, but on a mass base of Western headquarters just common labor and community interests. He wants to build outside of San Francisco.

It was a colorful gathering of powerful men, one of whom conglomerate corporations. Thus, last April, Reuther put history by being cut down at the feeters out to the Teamsters. late Senator's side. He is the This was not difficult. Some of auto unions' regional director, his colleagues have had long and Paul Schrade, who had flown up friendly relations with Jimmy Hoffa since 1935. And through building to meet with Walter Reuther, and Teamsters second of vice president Elmer Mohn, also a difficult to find as a flock of whooping cranes.

The Teamsters grab at this. Reuther is just what they need - not for federation, but for respectability, which has fled the Teamsters during the jailing of Jim Hoffa and, most recently, during the current federal probes of the acidic Cosa Nostra hoodlum Johnny Dio, the New York scandals involving Tony Ducks Corallo and the series of indictments of toughs who appeared to be using the $500 million Teamsters Central States pension fund as an unlocked cash register.

So, on May 13, some weeks after a secret joint conference in Detroit, Reuther and some of his vice presidents had gone over to the Teamsters marble hall here. Then they met in Chicago. Then on June 4 in Millbrae, Calif., and soon they will sit down again in Detroit.

Such accommodation must be difficult for Reuther. For, across the table from him at these conferences most of the time, there sits Frank (Fitz) Fitzsimmons, Jimmy Hoffa's regent who says he is ready to step down the moment the Supreme Court releases his imprisoned leader.

There is no doubt that Fitz hears regularly from "Jimmy" over in the Lewisburg penitentiary. The record is full of Fitz's paeans for power. But power goes to money. Right now Fitz can use Reuther's liberal and intellectual aura. Right now Reuther can use the sprawling 1.9 million-member Teamsters Brotherhood in his duel with the federation led by the broad-shouldered, cigar-chomping healthiest 73-year-old labor leader in the land.

Right now a Teamsters-auto union coalition could do some mighty political bargaining with Lyndon Johnson and Hubert Humphrey. And so the entente is cordial indeed.

Politics is the art of the improbable. And so the Teamsters, possible and labor politics has Reuther wants the Community Action Council network to tackle

GOING LIKE '60'

We weren't aware of it, but the highway patrol gentlemen aren't the only ones who keep tab on motorists' speeds. The Bureau of Public Roads has been doing it for years.

It reports that Americans are traveling faster than ever on the nation's open roads, mainly because there are more and more miles of four-lane freeways to go faster on.

According to study conducted by the bureau and state highway departments, the average speed of all types of motor vehicles—passenger cars, trucks and buses—was 53.7 miles per hour in 1966. This was nearly one mile an hour faster than the year before.

About 40 per cent of the vehicles were clocked at speeds of 60 m.p.h. or higher. The average speed of buses and cars was the same—58.8 m.p.h. Average truck speed was 52.6 m.p.h., about 50 per cent faster than the average truck speed of 25 years ago—which will not surprise anyone who has tried to pass one lately.

U.S. citizens are deeply concerned about the state of our youth today. They read about hippies, beatniks, and other assorted examples of moral depravity associated with youth. They are not reassured by the constant reminders that older generations always complain about the younger. There is simply too much exposure given to this small, filthy, publicity-seeking minority of misguided youngsters.

The fact is, we have among us large numbers of constructive youth devoted to freedom. An indication not only of the concern of the majority of young people, but also of the growing turn to the right by United States citizens, is the sudden, tremendous response to the Youth Freedom Speakers within recent weeks. There is a growing flow of invitations for Youth Freedom Speakers to appear before civic groups, national conventions and on community and school programs. More important is the recent formation of large, state-wide Chapters in Mississippi and Louisiana, and local organizations in Georgia and Florida. Here is youth in action, presenting freedom's story.

Our country desperately needs to recognize this constructive side of youth. It must encourage these youngsters who are not afraid to present freedom's message and urge others to join with them to correct the wrongful image attached to youth. This is, truly, the "best hope of earth."

Advisory Group

Urges 2-Cent

Sales Tax Hike

ST. LOUIS (AP) - A subcommittee of the Governor's Advisory Council on Local Government recommended Wednesday a two-cent increase in the state sales tax to provide additional revenue for local government and education.

The chairman of the subcommittee, St. Louis Comptroller John H. Poelker, said an increase to five cents from three cents on each $1 of sales should produce $170 million annually.

He said the five per cent total tax rate would produce $391 million a year after tax credits and administration costs are paid.

If You Were the Judge

Unlicensed Americans Free to Take Pictures

By JACK STRAUSS, LL.B.

To the consternation of picture takers in Podunk, taking a picture was no "snap." A city law was passed that required photographers to obtain a photographer's license before being able to utter those traditional words: "Watch the birdie."

Taking a negative view of the negative law, several professional photographers focused their lenses on the law in court where they attacked its validity. "Taking a portrait is an art," they argued. "While a city can pass laws, it has no right to pass on what a photographer does."

"That's not so," was the answer. "A city has the duty to protect the public. And, in this case, licensing of photographers is necessary to protect the public from bad workmanship, false advertising and other unscrupulous practices. Even in art, the line has to be drawn somewhere."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you uphold the validity of the law?

This is how the judge ruled: No! The judge held that while a law can be passed to protect the public health, morals, safety and general welfare, photography is an innocuous occupation with no unusual reason for specific regulation. Without such a reason, concluded the judge, the law is an unconstitutional invasion of a person's freedom to conduct a harmless and lawful business. (Based upon a 1964 Colorado Supreme Court Decision.)

Miss Deidre Harber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Harber, 747 North Ranney St., arrived Saturday in Guam to do missionary work this summer.

Miss Harber and Miss Marjorie Reed, Fairfield, Ill., left St. Louis June 5 and spent one night in Hawaii before going to Guam. The girls will be in the Philippines for six weeks teaching in the public schools, helping in revival and orientating the beginning class in English.

Hong Kong, Tokyo and San Francisco will be visited by the girls when they return home about the middle of August. Miss Harber graduated from Sikeston High school in 1966 and is attending the University of Missouri, Columbia, where she is majoring in social studies in secondary education. She is a member of the North Acres General Baptist church of United Association.

Charleston: Home of New Schools And Governor Warren E. Hearnes

CHARLESTON - The city of Charleston has two factors which set it apart from any other city in the state: it is the hometown of Missouri's governor and it has the most modern high school facility in Missouri.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes was born in Charleston and maintains a residence here. He attended Charleston public schools.

The new high school, which cost $1,491,844, has become a showcase institution for its design and the use of team teaching techniques.

The 80,000 square foot building has about 50 rooms and a student capacity of 1,000.

Photographs and exhibits of the high school were accepted for display at the American Association of School Administrators annual meeting at Atlantic City, N. J., and the facility has been the subject of articles in magazines of wide circulation.

The building was designed by Pearce and Pearce Inc. of St. Louis. R. Clinton Construction Company of Sikeston was the general contractor.

The school district also has a new kindergarten facility which cost about $70,000. Pearce and Pearce were the architects and Ralph Spears Construction Company of Dexter was the contractor.

Improvements to the Charleston R-1 school district continue to be made. Residents of the district passed a $580,000 bond issue for construction of an elementary school to replace Eugene Field and Mark Twain elementary schools. Pupils from Wyatt Washington and Lincoln elementary schools will also use the new facility.

Charleston also has a parochial school system, St. Henry's, which has elementary and high school facilities.

Residents point with pride to their new high school and the fact that Charleston is the home of Governor Hearnes. But these are just two highlights. There are many more.

The city has many beautiful homes, whose owners take great care in keeping their yards in attractive conditions. Flowers are abundant throughout the town and the city has many tree-lined streets.

The city is also the county seat of Mississippi County. The court house is here.

It is also the largest community in the county, with a population of about 6,000.

Transportation facilities serving Charleston are good. The community is located on Interstate 57, which, when completed, will provide four-lane pavement from Chicago to Sikeston, linking it with Interstate 55.

Charleston is served by the Missouri Pacific Railroad and several truck lines and is 10 miles west of the Mississippi River barge terminal facilities at Cairo, Ill.

The largest industry in Charleston is the Brown Shoe

Company plant, which employs about 400 persons and produces about one million shoes annually.

The city is in the heart of the rich Mississippi River delta farmland, and agriculture and its related services account for a large part of the economy of Charleston.

The community is the headquarters of the Mississippi County Historical Society, which maintains a museum and art gallery at the old Russell Hotel.

Charleston was laid off by a surveyor in 1837 and had an original area of 16.35 acres, which included 12 blocks of 10 lots each with 66-foot-wide streets.

By 1880 it had a population of 1,028, and by 1910 the population had increased to 3,144.

During the War between the States Charleston was occupied by Union forces and several minor skirmishes were fought here. A few miles away, at Belmont on the Mississippi River, General U. S. Grant fought a bloody battle which closed the campaign of 1861.

The attitude and needs of the community can best be described by quoting from a city brochure prepared by the Chamber of Commerce:

"Charleston and Mississippi County in the mid-20th century are a community in the grip of tremendous technological change, as agriculture has mechanized, throwing hundreds of former agricultural workers off the farms. Steps are being taken through education to retrain these people in skills needed by non-agricultural and new agricultural industries.

"Finding jobs for these people is probably the worst problem facing the community today."

The brochure continues: "Charleston has no secret. It needs an industry - perhaps many small industries, and it has determined to seek such industry."

"Charleston has the advantages to offer interested parties and concerns. It is prepared in spirit and in economic resources to offer opportunity to men who mean business in the matter of expanding, or relocating their industrial operations. Charleston has the natural resources, the electric power, natural gas, abundant water, transportation and manpower to build anything from a battleship to a mousetrap."

The brochure is entitled "Opportunity Unlimited."

This phrase is a good description of the community, which has demonstrated its civic pride and willingness to progress by providing its young people with the educational facilities which will enable them to acquire the knowledge and skills which are so vital in attracting new industry.

8 Samples of Cotton May Be Identified

HAYTI - Cotton producers may request Smith-Doxey sampling agents to identify the variety of each sample of the 1968 crop submitted for classification.

Paul W. Karban, officer in charge of the United States Division of Agriculture cotton classing office says this may be done in any one of the following ways:

1. By placing a special color tag on the sack of samples.
2. By entering the variety on a tag placed on the outside or inside of the sack.
3. By placing a drop tag showing the variety in each sample.
4. By entering the variety on the form I memorandum (green card) under the gin name and address provided the following wording is printed, stamped or written on the card: "Producer states variety to be..."

If the form I Memorandum method is used, the sampling agent must include the following statement on each green card: "Producer states variety to be..." The cotton division assumes no responsibility for the variety shown on the green card. If further information is desired, the cotton classing office at 1010 East Highway 84 may be contacted.

Can We Wave the Flag Too Much?

by SIDNEY L. DeLOVE

Is it possible to wave the flag too much? Provided, of course, that you wave it with integrity? Is it possible to study Lincoln or Shakespeare too much? Is it possible to read the Bible too much? ★ The great, the good, the true, are inexhaustible for inspiration, example and strength. I believe that we are not waving our flag enough, not nearly enough ★ It seems to me that we are developing a tendency to be timid or even apologetic about waving the stars and stripes. Walk up and down the streets on July 4th and count the flags. It is our nation's birthday, a sacred day in world history, the most important day of America. Why isn't the flag flying on every rooftop and from every home and building? This complacent attitude is strong evidence of cancerous patriotic decay. The flag is a symbol of our national unity. It is the spirit of our undying devotion to our country. It stands for the best that is in us... for loyalty, character, and faith in democracy ★ Isn't our flag a synonym of the United States of America? Does it not represent man's greatest, noblest, most sublime dream? Is it not the zenith of achievement, the goal to which generations have aspired? ★ Ladies and gentlemen, I believe it is time for us... for the mad, rushing Twentieth Century American... to stop for a moment and think. Let us arrest our near reverential admiration of material success and return to the spiritual and ethical values. Let us imbue and rekindle in ourselves and our children the so-called old-fashioned way of patriotism, a burning devotion to the principles and ideals upon which our country was founded ★ Should not every home own and proudly display the colors on holidays and other such occasions? Isn't the flag Patrick Henry, Jefferson, Franklin, Washington, Nathan Hale, Gettysburg and Valley Forge, Paul Revere, Jackson and other great men and women who have given us our heritage. When you look at the flag can't you see the Alamo, Corrigedor, Pearl Harbor, The Monitor and The Merrimac? Lest we forget, isn't the flag Flanders Field, Bataan, Iwo Jima, Normandy, Babe Ruth and Davy Crockett? The great events of our past and present are wrapped up in our flag ★ It is a symbol of this blessed nation, a giant in industry, education and commerce. Millions of fertile square miles, wheatlands, coal mines, steel plants. Our great republic, the chosen infant destined to be man's last remaining hope for suffering humanity, a shining beacon of light, noble and glorious, the haven for the oppressed and persecuted and truly God's gift to mankind ★ That is what the flag means to me. Can we wave it too much? I don't think so.

Reply of S. L. DeLove on the Know Your History Hour, December 30th, 1956, to a listener who wrote as follows: "Your programs are wonderful — but you are waving the flag too much."

The above is reprinted and narrated annually in hundreds of national magazines, newspapers and radio stations, and is a part of the Congressional Record.

Dr. DeLove is the author of The Quiet Betrayal and president of Independence Hall of Chicago.

Ann Landers

Costumes of Young Carry Message

Dear Ann Landers: Please, up in it but I didn't say anything. The kid who took me out Saturday night wore a shirt with a ruffled collar and cuffs. I thought it was his mother's. When I asked where he got it he said it belonged to his brother. "I couldn't afford anything as nifty as this," he announced.

The pants are getting tighter and the hair is getting longer and the clothes are getting fancier. Do boys want to be girls or what? Please tell me, I am beginning to wonder what all this means. — MISS?????

Dear Miss: Marshall McLuhan says clothes these days are not clothes but costumes. People are dressing for the roles they play. I believe he has a message.

The more bizarre the outfit, the more desperate the "actor." People who are well balanced are not compelled to do everything short of set their hair on fire to attract attention. And for those of you who have already reached for your ballpoints to tell this square old lady what's "in," save your stamps. I know what's in and I wouldn't wear some of the so-called "in" styles to a skunk raffle.

Dear Ann Landers: I have had so much well-meaning advice my head is spinning. Please help me settle something that has been bugging me for months.

I am 26 and engaged to a man who is 41. Phil will have to pay alimony and child support (two children) for 11 more years. He has a good job and says he is in line for several promotions which will mean more money.

Do you have any statistics on the prospects of promotion after 40? Also what is the average earning capacity of a man in this age group? Has he reached his peak? If he should leave the country are there any laws that will bring him back should he decide he does not want to pay alimony and child support? (His ex-wife's family has money.)

We have had some talks and Phil tells me he has three bank accounts under different names. Is this legal? Could his ex-wife get her hands on anything if she should learn of this and he is behind in his payments? How can I find out for certain what he is making and how much money he has in the bank? P.S. Phil is a pleasant person and we enjoy each other's company. — BROWN EYED SUSAN

Dear Susan: That faint praise with which you damned poor Phil takes your letter out of the human relations category and makes it a financial inquiry. You shouldn't have written to Ann Landers, Dearie, you should have written to Dunn and Bradstreet. The whole thing sounds like forget it and I hope you will — for Phil's sake as well as yours.

What awaits you on the other side of the marriage veil? How can you be sure your marriage will work? Read Ann Landers' booklet "Marriage — What To Expect." Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

FAMOUS LAST...

BALTIMORE (AP) — As the boatload of U.S. Jaycees approached Fort McHenry during a tour of Baltimore Harbor, the commentator told them the fort is one of the few places in the nation where the flag flies 24 hours a day.

The band played "The Star-Spangled Banner." The Jaycees rushed to the rail to look. No flag was flying over the fort.

A call later determined that the flagpole was being painted that night.

Telephone lines between Sikeston and New Madrid are being reconstructed at a cost of more than $18,000, it has been announced by L. D. Randol, district manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

New Madrid—Word has been received here that 35 feet of water may be expected on the Mississippi River within the next few days. This stage of water will cover the farms lying east of New Madrid, and it is greatly to be regretted as there are many good farmers living in that territory and they have already planted most of their crops.

Charleston—Elbert, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfie Brown, celebrated his seventh birthday anniversary on Saturday with an afternoon party at his home.

Morehouse—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Boone have moved into the house recently vacated by Mrs. Joe McCabe, who has gone to Texas for an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Crumpecker.

Headed For Extinction

The sturgeon, caviar-producing fish, seems headed for extinction. Once common in the Thames, Seine and Elbe Rivers and Chesapeake Bay estuaries, its last strongholds are the Caspian and Black Seas, where fishermen have taken a heavy toll.

Today In U.S. History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, June 14, the 166th day of 1968. There are 200 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1940, the Germans occupied Paris in World War II.

On this date: In 1777, the Second Continental Congress in Philadelphia adopted the Stars and Stripes as the American flag.

In 1811, the author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," Harriet Beecher Stowe, was born.

In 1934, Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini met in Vienna.

In 1941, President Franklin D. Roosevelt issued an order freezing German and Italian assets in the United States.

In 1944, in the Pacific war, U.S. forces invaded Saipan Island in the Marianas.

In 1957, military officers in Haiti ousted President Daniel Fignole after he had been in office only 19 days.

Ten years ago, France agreed to a partial withdrawal from French military posts in Morocco.

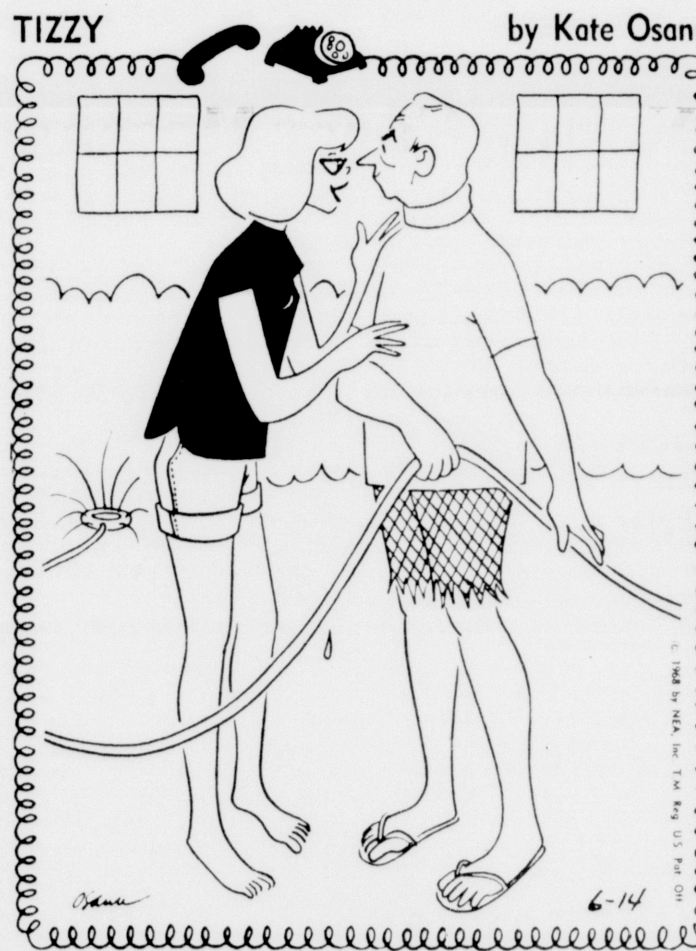

Five years ago, the Soviet Union sent its fifth cosmonaut into space.

One year ago, the U.N. Security Council rejected a Soviet resolution calling for a pullback of Israeli troops from Arab territory.

ARMED FORCES

BLYTHEVILLE AFB, Ark. - Blytheville Air Force Base will be closed to the general public Monday, June 17. The temporary closing will be in conjunction with a six-hour practice wartime mission exercise simulating enemy nuclear attack conditions.

In announcing the exercise, nicknamed "Buckskin Rider", Colonel Eugene D. Minietta, 97th Bomb Wing Commander, said, "The base will be closed to the general public except for Contract Workers and normal delivery service to the base."

Colonel Minietta requested that individuals not assigned to or working at the base refrain from visiting during the disaster exercise.

The entire exercise will be confined to Blytheville Air Force Base. The main gate will be the only base entrance point.

Base sirens will be used to "warn" of various simulated wartime emergency situations.

During the exercise the commissary, base exchange, service station, library, service club, recreational facilities and cleaners will be closed. The commissary warehouse will remain open for issue of rations to troops.

Purpose of the "Buckskin Rider" exercise is to test a base's capability of launching its forces under adverse conditions of enemy attack.

"Most phases of the exercise are simulated," explained Colonel Minietta, "however base exercise judges and referees will strive to make various situations as realistic as possible."

More Revenues for Cities Discussed at Meeting

DEXTER - A state pension plan for possible adoption by cities, re-evaluation of real property assessments, and ways and means of cities obtaining more revenue through taxation were among topics discussed Tuesday at the regional division meeting of the Missouri Municipal League.

During an election of officers, Robert Riley, mayor of New Madrid, was named president. Mayor L. A. Nowak of Jackson was elected vice president and Dr. Harry C. Goddard, a member of the Kennett city council, was named secretary.

Attending from Cape Girardeau were City Councilman J. Hugh Logan, outgoing president of regional division 12; Mayor A. Robert Pierce, and Harry E. Andrews, city assessor.

Andrews said Mayor Willis Conner of Dexter spoke briefly, extending the welcome, and President Logan presided.

Don Beatty, Jefferson City, acting executive secretary of the Missouri Local Government Employees Retirement System and a member of the league staff, conducted the workshop and discussion on the pension program open to cities for municipal employees.

Real property assessments were discussed by Judge Hunter Phillips, chairman of the State Tax Commission in Jefferson City. His remarks were keyed to re-evaluation on the county level which would also be reflected in city assessments.

Jay T. Bell, executive director of the league, reported on progress of statewide programs to solve the municipal finance problems of many cities.

She said one of the best means of cities obtaining more revenue from taxes would be for the state to increase its sales tax with a refund to the cities.

Two Seek Representation On DAEOC Board

PORTAGEVILLE - The city council of Kennett and the Delmo Housing Agency petitioned the Delta Area Economic Opportunity Corp., meeting in a board session Monday night, for representation on the board of directors.

Charles Fleer, executive director of DAEOC, reports that the petitions were presented in writing and that the board - with the required representation from the six - county area for government, social services and the poor already seated - made two decisions in regard to the three representatives - at - large which have not yet been determined.

Former Perkins Man Dies

ORAN - A former Perkins resident, Val Machino, 81, died Tuesday in Belle Chasse, La.

Machino, a dragline operator until his retirement in 1952, moved from Perkins in 1927.

In 1912, he married Miss Lulu Beklund, who survives.

He is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. Rudolph McBride, Port Sulphur, La.; a sister, a brother, a grandchild, and a great-grandchild.

Graveside services were conducted Friday afternoon at 2 at Williams Memorial Cemetery in Perkins by the Rev. H. M. Andrews, Methodist minister from Scott City with the Smith Funeral Home of Oran in charge.

The Prayer from The Upper Room

Faith, by itself, if it has no works, is dead. (James 2:17, RSV)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, who hast given to us the privilege of coming close to Thee through prayer, may we realize the joy and the power that come with daily use of this divine gift. So change and enrich our lives that other persons may be led into fellowship with Thee. In the name of Christ, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven... Amen."

A Tribute . . . To Fathers

There's an old saying that "mother knows best." Well, it seems to us that Father, bless him, should come in for some compliments, too, once in a while. It is true, of course, that upon mother's patient shoulders rests the upbringing of the children. And that is as it should be. But let's not forget that Pa is generally the family breadwinner and it is up to him to pay the bills. When day is done and he comes home, make things as cheery and loving as you can. Have a nice dinner ready. Lay out his slippers and his beloved pipe. Show him how much you love him by being kind and considerate. He may not tell you how he appreciates these attentions. But he will . . . as all good fathers do!

Malden Strike Ends

MALDEN - A protest strike by 13 employees of the board of public works in effect since Friday was settled at 10 a.m. Wednesday with the negotiations taking place between city officials and the striking workers in the office of the board of public works.

Included in, and prior to, the negotiations was the resignation of W. A. Smith, manager of the city plant.

The board met Tuesday night and again at 8 a.m. today to hear the grievances of the 13 employees. According to Val Mitchell, chairman of the board, the grievances had to do with general operations of the plant and working conditions under the manager. Also involved was the firing of one employee and the resignation of another, who testified he quit his job under pressure.

Chairman Mitchell reported that all strikers have been re-instated on their jobs and the management of the plant has been placed temporarily under the three general division foremen - Clair Bullard, electrical division; Lloyd Stone, power plant; and Bob Templeton, water and sewer division.

Pastor Leaves Wesley

The Rev. J. Harmon Holt of New Madrid, minister of the Wesley Methodist Church, 600 Pine St., for the past two years has been transferred to Hayward, Mo.

The announcement was made at the annual session of the United Methodist Church East Conference ending today at Fayette, Mo.

Rev. Holt will serve the Hayward community in his retirement. The town is located near Portageville.

Rev. Holt has lived in New Madrid for over a year. He has three sons, two of whom are ministers.

The Rev. James Holt is pastor of the Ripley County Circuit, serving seven churches. The Rev. Charles Holt is pastor of the Faubion Chapel Methodist Church in Kansas City. Another son, Dr. Robert L. Holt is a professor of organic chemistry at Northeast Louisiana State College.

Rev. Holt is a member of the Masonic Order and holds a 32nd degree in that organization. He holds certificates of appreciation for cooperation from the American Cancer Society and Delta Head Start program.

Commenting on his years at Sikeston, Rev. Holt said, "We had wonderful two years. There are some wonderful people in Sikeston. Everyone was very kind to us."

Other ministerial appointments made by the conference include Rev. Wilfred House of Charleston to Moberly Trinity, Rev. Robert Hester to Monroe County Parish from Piedmont, Rev. A. Z. Alcorn to Ellington from Marquand, Rev. Glenn Ruhl to St. Paul's in St. Louis from Kennett, and Rev. Paul Skaggs to Essex from Esther; District Bell City, John Maynard from Caruth; Chayndon, William Mathae from Creve Coeur; East Prairie, Ray Earls from Memphis; Poplar Bluff First, B. V. Powell from Mexico.

Changes in Cape Girardeau - Farmington District included:

Benton - Commerce, W. K. Harper from Wright City; Elvins, J. Carl Franks from Puxico; Esther circuit, Don Kuehle from Haywood; Jackson, Ronald Wood from St. Louis; Lowndes Circuit, Noah Mitchell from Van Buren; Old Appleton Circuit, George Nothdurst from Idaho; Old Union Circuit, Henry Hefner from St. Johns De Soto; Sedgewickville, David Shultz from Parma.

In addition Homer Morris was named new superintendent of the Hannibal-Kirksville district.

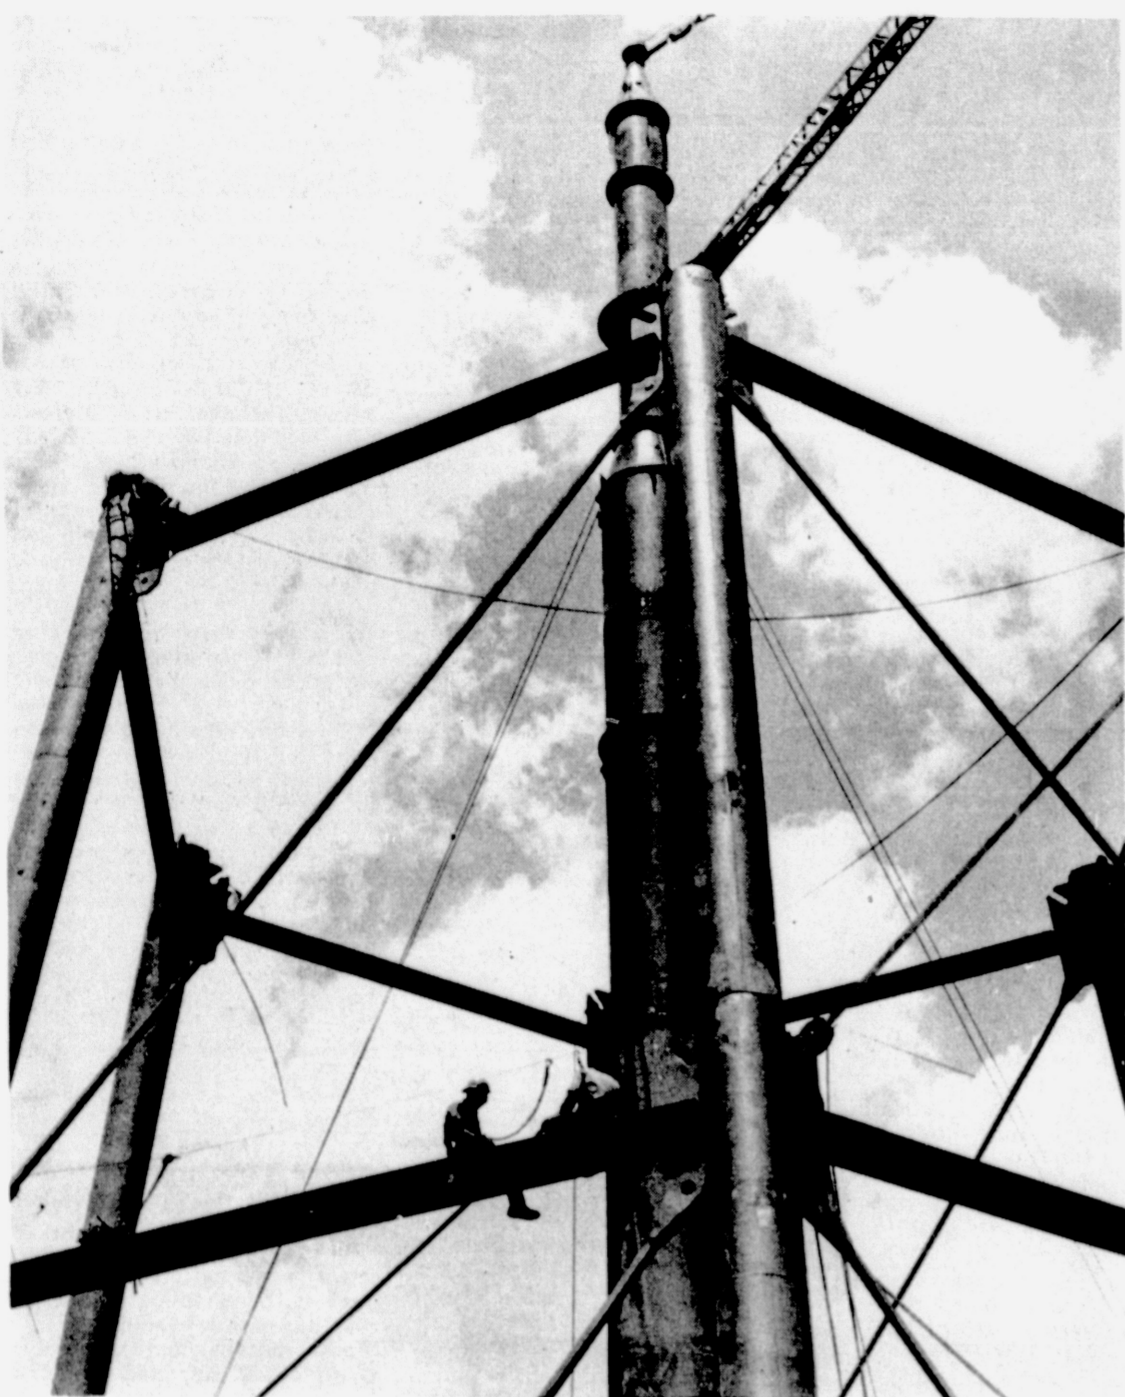

Morris will replace Dr. Ralph Hicks as superintendent of the Hannibal-Kirksville District. The latter is retiring and will live in Kansas City and be on the staff of the North Cross Church in North Kansas City.

Truck Collides With Trailer

A truck-trailer accident occurred at 3:52 p.m. yesterday on North Main street in front of the Security National Bank.

A truck driven by James Hodges, route four, was struck by a trailer which had come loose from tractor being driven by Loy Freeman, 212 North Prairie. The tractor and trailer belong to one city of Sikeston.

Shakespeare wrote "As You Like It" about 1600.

WORK CONTINUES on a 140-foot high water tower being built on Northwest St., near the steam plant. The 500,000 gallon capacity tower is being constructed by Chicago Bridge and Iron Works of Chicago.

New Water Tower Going Up

A 500,000-gallon capacity water tower is being built on Northwest street as part of a $200,000 sewer and water improvement program.

The tower, costing $121,500, is being constructed by Chicago Bridge and Iron Company of Chicago. It will be 140 feet high and is located near the steam plant. The tower will give the city two elevated towers and one ground level tank and will provide more water storage and better line pressure.

Construction of additional 12-inch water and sewer lines will begin soon. Ray Clinton

Construction Co. will build the sewer lines and C and B Construction Co. of Eldon will lay the water lines.

A well will be dug soon for additional water. It will be located within 400 feet of the water plant on Center street. At present the city has six wells.

Blytheville, Memphis Men Die of Accident Injuries

Two men died Thursday from injuries in highway accidents. A Blytheville man died as the result of an accident Wednesday night in Pemisot County. A Memphis man died from injuries in a crash at the west edge of New Madrid, the state patrol reported.

Eston Gwaltney, 64, of Blytheville died Thursday morning in the Baptist hospital in Memphis, after a collision, on route D, at 6:15 p.m. Wednesday.

The patrol said Gwaltney was driving a 1956 Chevrolet when he pulled in front of a 1959 Ford station wagon, driven by

Alvin Smith, 47, Steele. Five others were injured in the collision.

Gwaltney's body was taken to the Cobb Funeral Home in Blytheville.

The Memphis man was dead on arrival at the Missouri Delta Community hospital after his car struck a bridge pillar Thursday at 11:50 a.m. on Interstate 55. He was Harold Parker Wolf Jr., 43, driver of a 1965 Chevrolet station wagon.

He was traveling south when he apparently fell asleep, ran off the road and struck the support. His body was taken from Richards Funeral Home in New

Madrid, to the Memphis Funeral Home.

Thursday at 6:45 p.m. on route W, four miles north of Poplar Bluff, Richard Garver, 29, Quin, driver of a 1958 Ford pickup truck, collided with a 1965 Ford one-ton truck, driven by Hubert Ezel, 27, Poplar Bluff.

Garver's truck veered over the center line and struck the Ezel truck, the state patrol charged.

Garver received a fractured jaw and possible internal injuries. He was taken to Lucy Lee hospital in Poplar Bluff.

Hungate Bats for Delta Queen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. William L. Hungate, D - Mo., asked a House marine subcommittee Thursday to allow the last Mississippi River sternwheel steamboat in service to continue until a replacement is completed in 1970.

The Delta Queen, which plies

the Mississippi, Tennessee, Ohio and Cumberland rivers, is in violation of federal laws requiring vessels carrying overnight passengers on inland waterways to be of all steel construction.

The boat, which was built in 1926, has a steel hull but a wooden superstructure. Because of the part wood construction the craft is required to dock permanently in November.

The owners say they believe it will take another year to put a replacement into service and that the time gap would cause an irreversible loss in business.

32 Enemy Industrial Park for Missiles City Now Assured Located

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. soldiers scouring Saigon's rocket belt Thursday found 32 enemy missiles and killed 26 guerrillas. But despite the 12,000 allied troops combing the area, the Viet Cong fired four rockets into Tan Son Nhut airbase, killing one American and damaging a plane.

Saigon itself escaped attack for the third straight day.

The biggest cache of rockets was found by men of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division six miles northeast of the capital. They uncovered and destroyed 22 rounds of 107mm Chinese rockets, which made their first appearance in the Vietnam war last February.

Troops of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division accounted for 10 of the big 122mm Soviet rockets with which the Viet Cong has been blasting at Saigon since May 5. Nine were found in four sampans submerged in a canal nine miles northwest of Saigon, and the 10th was located at a firing site five miles northwest of the capital.

The 26 guerrillas were killed in two clashes, and six U.S. soldiers were wounded.

In addition to the thousands of allied troops searching in a radius of seven miles around the capital, the distance from which the big enemy rockets can hit the city, more radar equipment reportedly has been installed to pinpoint the enemy launching sites for counterfire.

While U.S. military officials believe they can reduce the rocket attacks on Saigon, they say there is no way to eliminate them. The Viet Cong always will be able to sneak a few men and rockets through the allied patrols, they say.

Captured Viet Cong also have reported that the ground attack on the city will be renewed Saturday.

NEW MADRID -- Announcement of a $2,929,000 federal grant to develop an industrial park, seven miles south of here, was made today in Washington, D.C., by Senators Stuart Symington and Edward V. Long and Congressman Paul C. Jones.

New Madrid will match the federal grant for a total program cost of $5,858,000 to develop the 4,000-acre site.

Noranda Mines Ltd. of Toronto, Canada, will build an aluminum reduction plant on the property giving employment to 550.

Ground breaking ceremonies for Pacific Coast Company's wire and rod mill on the site are scheduled for June 26. Pacific is a subsidiary of Noranda.

The total number of new jobs is expected to rise to 1,200 when major firms locating in the park go into full operation.

Dale Proctor, project manager for Pacific, announced the ground breaking plans.

Officials from Pacific and Missouri, including Gov. Warren E. Hearnes, will be present for the ceremony.

Proctor has opened an office at Main and Mott streets.

Proctor said that his primary task will be to plan and supervise construction of a wire and rod mill in New Madrid's industrial park, known as St. Jude industrial park.

The mill, which will employ 100 and will cost $6 million, is scheduled to be in production next May.

The mill will be built in conjunction with a $70 million aluminum reduction plant.

Proctor, a native of Carrollton, Ga., formerly was associated with Southwire Company, a producer of rod and cable, where he specialized in design and installation of wire and rod manufacturing machinery.

He is married and has one child. He plans to move his family to New Madrid.

Tennis Will Be Offered

Tennis instruction by appointment will be offered at the high school according to an announcement made today by David Miller, coordinator of the summer recreation program.

Mrs. Jane Roby, East Prairie, physical education instructor, will be the teacher.

Volleyball teams will be organized for children 13 years or older if enough interest is shown.

Eleven are employed to supervise the program at five schools.

Working at Lee Hunter are Linda Bennett, Penny Bryant and Rick Wilson. At Lincoln school is Betty Redd and Willie Joe Harrington, Jr.

Supervising at the junior high school is Robert Matthews and Barbara Willis. Working at senior high is Mrs. Roby and Webb Edwards. David Entekin and Sharon Hatley are at Southwest school.

Participation in the recreation is not as great as has been expected, especially among older children.

Mayor Kendall Sikes said that the program might not be offered next year if more interest is not shown during the remaining seven weeks of the program.

Guitar lessons will be offered by David Entekin starting Monday at 9 a.m. The one-hour lessons will be for beginners who will use their own instruments.

Entekin will be at Southwest Monday, junior high on Tuesday, the high school on Thursday, Lee Hunter on Thursday and Lincoln on Friday.

Linda Bennett will supervise work in arts and crafts. She will visit two schools each day except Wednesday.

Her schedule: Monday, junior high and Lee Hunter; Tuesday, Lincoln and Southwest; Wednesday, Senior high; Thursday, Southwest and Lincoln; and Friday, Lee Hunter and junior high school.

Miss Bennett will be at the first school from 8:30 a.m. to 10 a.m., the second from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

BOSTON (AP)—The jury in the antidraft conspiracy trial of Dr. Benjamin Spock and four other men received the case today after the judge told them: "Conspiracy is the crucial issue here."

In his closing remarks, U.S. District Judge Francis J.W. Ford also said there can be "no defense or excuse whatsoever under the law for individuals to willfully and intentionally violate laws on religious and moral grounds."

Ford told the 12-man jury, however, that it could not find a defendant guilty merely because he associated with other defendants, but only if he took an active part in an alleged conspiracy.

"We are not trying the morality, the legality, or the constitutionality of the Vietnam War, nor are we trying the morality, legality, or constitutionality of the Selective Service law, or the right of a person to protest the war," Ford said.

On trial with the 65-year-old pediatrician are Yale Chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr., 43; Michael Ferber, 23, a Harvard graduate student; Mitchell Goodman, 44, a writer and teacher; and Marcus Raskin, 34, a Washington research director.

They are charged with conspiring to aid, abet and counsel young men to violate draft laws, a federal crime which carries maximum penalties of five-year prison terms and $10,000 fines.

Nine Cases

In City Court

Nine cases were heard by Judge James D. Sickal last night in city court:

Melvin Burrell, route one, charged with discharging firearms and displaying a deadly weapon, case continued.

Delores A. Arivett, 121 Northwest St., charged with disturbing the peace, was fined $16.

Zora Davis, 426 East Kathleen St., forfeited a $7 bond for failure to pay an overtime parking ticket.

James Oscar Payne, 115 West Kathleen St., charged with assault and battery, was fined $36.

Jimmie Milroy Goes, 349 School St., charged with not having a city auto license, pleaded guilty and was fined $7.

Lonnie Brockmire, Cape Girardeau, charged with careless and imprudent driving, pleaded guilty and was fined $26.

Jessie P. Ledbetter, 322 Selma St., charged with careless and imprudent driving and being involved in an accident, pleaded guilty and was fined $17.

Bob K. Cronan, Portageville, charged with careless and imprudent driving and being involved in an accident, pleaded guilty and was fined $17.

Anzell Ceral Gross, Sikeston, was sentenced to five days in jail for disturbing the peace.

TRACY, Minn. (AP)—A tornado roared through Tracy with death and destruction Thursday evening, killing at least 10 persons and wrecking up to 300 homes.

More than a dozen persons were missing, and more than 20 were hospitalized.

Seven bodies were recovered in the dark hours following the powerful twister, and three were discovered this morning as National Guardsmen and Civil Defense workers began search and cleanup operations.

The bodies found after daybreak included that of a man found near town in an open field, near his car, and two persons in another vehicle.

Some of the demolished homes, nearly half the dwellings in the community, had vanished except for their concrete front steps and foundations. Some homes had plumbing intact, but little else. Two boxcars lifted from railroad tracks had blown over rooftops and smashed down three blocks away in the area of destruction, so cluttered it resembled a large junkyard.

Streets were bulldozed of debris, to permit workmen to get through. Tracy's mayor ordered the town sealed off from sightseers, with entry permits granted to persons with valid reasons to be in Tracy.

The Tracy hospital said 22 persons were admitted and 72 remained overnight. Eleven were listed in critical condition.

The twister, powered two miles through this town of 2,800 in Minnesota's southwestern farmland.

Ramsey Seeks Re-Election

NEW MADRID — W. L. "Cowboy" Ramsey, sheriff of New Madrid county, has filed for re-election on the Democratic ticket in the primary election Aug. 6, and has authorized The Daily Standard to announce his candidacy to the voters of New Madrid county.

Sheriff Ramsey has served as the county's principal law enforcement officer and it is on his record of performance of his duties as sheriff that he requests renomination in the Democratic primary and re-election in the November general election.

The sheriff was reared in New Madrid county.

He is a veteran of World War II and is a member of veteran and other organizations.

Sheriff Ramsey requests the vote and support of all people in his race for re-election and assures the voters that if again elected, he will attend to the office in a manner that will meet with the approval of the citizens of the county.

He pledges fair and impartial administration of the affairs of the sheriff's office to the best of his ability.

Grand Jury Testimony Covers Sirhan's Actions During and Before Shooting

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Twelve hours before Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's assassination, witnesses say, the accused man was rapid-firing the death weapon on a target range.

Other witnesses say three bullets hit Kennedy—not two, as previously reported—and that the killer stepped from beside a smiling, shapely mystery girl and fired his revolver with "a very sick-looking smile on his face."

These were highlights of testimony made public Thursday by the county grand jury which last Friday indicted Sirhan Bishara Sirhan, a 24-year-old Jordanian immigrant, for the murder.

The transcript—258 double-spaced typewritten pages—became public when filed with the county clerk.

Twenty-two witnesses—not among them—pictured the slaying scene of terror and hysteria and its aftermath:

Eight .22-caliber bullets exploding in "a deliberate... bang-bang cadence" like firecrackers or popping toy balloons...

Kennedy falling, fatally wounded, rearing back sharply. "Both hands went up. He was just about to shake hands..."

Five bystanders falling wounded...

The crowd's stunned, screaming reaction: "The suspect turned... and was trying to escape... People were trying to hit him and cursing at him, and it was utter confusion. I mean everyone was trying to kill him."

Testimony from hotel employees, police and medical men gave this picture:

A half hour before the shooting, Sirhan had been waiting in the hotel kitchen, asking a porter three or four times if the senator was expected to pass through.

From the Embassy Room stage where he had proclaimed victory, Kennedy was led by the hand by a hotel employee to the place where Sirhan was standing.

The employee, an assistant maitre d', said the kitchen passage was due to a last minute change of mind, that earlier Kennedy had been expected to go downstairs to address a group unable to get into the main ballroom. The employee did not say why the plan was changed.

Henry Adrian Carreon, an elementary school playground director and police science major at East Los Angeles College, testified he and a friend, David Montellano, were target-shooting about noon June 4 on the San Gabriel Valley Gun Club's pistol range.

"To the left of us there was an individual around five feet away, shooting very rapidly on the range with a revolver," said Carreon. "On the range you are supposed to shoot and pause. Usually the range officer goes up to the individual shooting in this manner and he will inform them that it's not supposed to be done."

Carreon identified the individual from photos as Sirhan.

Asked twice, Sirhan identified his revolver as an Iver Johnson, Carreon said.

Carreon said Montellano noticed that Sirhan had one box of bullets set aside from his others and asked Sirhan, "Isn't that a special type of bullet?"

The bullet, said Carreon, is called "the mini-magnum; and this type of bullet, when it penetrates on an object, usually tears and splits out into different directions where the regular bullet of a .22 caliber goes in a hole and... it will come out the same size."

Carreon said Sirhan was noncommittal about the bullets. Shown a gun while before the grand jury, Carreon identified it as the one he saw on the practice range.

Dr. Thomas T. Noguchi, chief medical examiner who performed a six-hour autopsy on Kennedy's body, told newsmen just after the postmortem that he found two bullets and two wounds.

But the transcript quoted him as telling the grand jury he found three wounds and two bullets, indicating Kennedy was hit three times.

Noguchi said the fatal bullet entered the right mastoid, behind the right ear, penetrating the brain, and two others about two inches apart entered the right arm.

He said one of the latter was found in the neck and the other exited in the front of the right shoulder. Neither, he said, would out, and nobody could move. It was—you were just frozen; you didn't know what to do.

"And then I saw the first muzzle was 'no more than two or three inches from the edge of the right ear.' Witnesses at the scene described the gunman as four to six feet away.

Testimony about the girl at the killer's side was given by Vincent Thomas Di Piero, a student and part-time Ambassador Hotel waiter.

He noticed the girl and Sirhan standing on a tray stacker or holder, Sirhan grasping with his left hand one of four pipes that are part of the holder.

"The only reason I noticed him, there was a very good-looking girl next to him," said Di Piero. "That was the only reason I looked over there."

"I could not see his right hand; he looked as though he was clutching his stomach, as though somebody had elbowed him."

"He was semicrouched... I saw him get down off the tray stand. The next thing I saw was him holding the gun."

Di Piero said the slayer moved around the hotel captain, and "he stuck the gun straight shoulder. Neither, he said, would out, and nobody could move. It was—you were just frozen; you didn't know what to do."

Di Piero said the slayer moved around the hotel captain,

she was wearing?"

"Yes. It looked as though it was a white dress and it had either black or dark purple polka dots on it. It kind of had—I don't know what they call it—but it's like—looked like a bib in the front, kind of went around."

"A lace dickey, probably," a grand juror remarked.

Di Piero: "...Like I say, they were... standing together."

"Back of the tray stand?"

"Yes, and what happened, he looked as though he either talked to her or flirted with her because she smiled. This is just before he got down."

Question: "So, at least, their association, in proximity of the tray, they are smiling, perhaps..."

Answer: "Together, they were both smiling. As he got down, he was smiling. In fact, the minute the first two shots were fired, he still had a very sick-looking smile on his face. That's one thing—I can never forget that."

Others at the scene had told police of seeing "a girl in a polka dot dress" leave. One quoted her as saying, "We shot him... We shot Kennedy."

On the basis of witnesses' descriptions police issued an all-points bulletin. Several young women came in and said they were wearing polka-dot clothing, but officers said none fitted the description. One of these women said she ran out of the kitchen saying, "They shot Kennedy."

Sirhan, short, slender and swarthy, remains under constant surveillance in a heavily guarded cell at Central Jail. He is scheduled to plead to the indictment June 28.

The youth held a variety of odd jobs before his arrest. He emigrated to this country with his family as a boy and lived with his mother and brothers in adjoining Pasadena.

Sirhan's father, Bishara Sirhan, who lives alone in the village of Taiyeb near Jerusalem, told newsmen Thursday he may fly to the United States to see his son.

Karl Uecker, an assistant maitre d' at the hotel, told the grand jury he led Kennedy from the Embassy Room stage to the kitchen area by the hand.

He said that by a previous plan Kennedy was to go downstairs where 1,500-1,800 people unable to get into the main ballroom awaited a speech by the senator.

"And their minds were changed at the last minute," Uecker said. "I just remember that somebody told me 'turn to your right... toward the Colonial Room...'"

He did not explain the change of plan. A news conference awaited Kennedy in the Colonial Room.

Uecker said Kennedy let go of his hand to shake hands with a dishwasher.

"And then I took his hand again... Then I heard the first shot and the second shot right after that, and Mr. Kennedy fell out of my hand. I looked for him, and I saw him falling down."

Uecker said he pushed the man's gun arm down toward

Judy Carol Sherrod May Bride of Robert Rogers

Judy Carol Sherrod and Robert Rogers were married May 5 at the Eastside Church of the Nazarene.

The Rev. Elton House, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe D. Sherrod Sr. of Sikeston and Rogers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Rogers of Charleston.

Greenery and yellow mums decorated the church.

Pianist Miss Debbie Launius accompanied Mrs. Joe D. Sherrod Jr., who sang "Because" and "O Promise Me."

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Sherrod wore an empire-styled floor-length gown of peau de soie with a lace jacket. Her lace train, trimmed with pearls, was attached at the waistline.

The bride wore a fingertip veil of nylon tulle secured by a double crown of pearls. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and ivy.

Miss Brenda Burnett of Birmingham, Ala., was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Charleston high school and an Juanita Crawford and Miss Tanya Forrest.

They wore floor-length dresses of pale yellow peau de soie. Yellow cotton lace jackets and trains complemented their gowns. Their headdresses were yellow velvet bows encircled by nylon tulle veils.

Miss Susan Sherrod, the bride's sister, was in charge of the guest book.

Jerry Washer of Charleston was best man. Groomsman were Steve Moore and Larry Jackson, both of Charleston. Ushers were Eddy and Ronnie Sherrod, brothers of the bride, and Mike Hanks of Sikeston.

Melanie Rowe Weds John Warren Arends

MALDEN - Miss Melanie Dawn Rowe became the bride of John Warren Arends at the United Methodist Church in Malden Saturday night. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Webster Lee Rowe of Malden and the groom is the son of Mrs. Joseph N. Arends of Malden and the late Joseph N. Arends.

The Rev. Roger Davis performed the double ring ceremony at 8:30 p.m.

The pre-nuptial music was played by Mrs. Tom Welch, organist, who also accompanied Mrs. Willem Travaille of Bartlesville, Okla., cousin of the groom, as she sang "Thine Alone." "Whither Thou Goest" from the Song of Ruth, and "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt for the benediction.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white silk organza with a sculptured neckline outlined in reemboirdered Alencon lace.

The silk illusion wateau train, scattered in the Alencon lace motifs and bordered in a lace pattern of roses, was caught to the shoulder of the gown. She wore a half-crown headpiece, embellished with seed pearls, to which was attached her French veil of silk illusion.

The bride carried a cascade arrangement of miniature white carnation and ivy centered with a white orchid. Her only jewelry was single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Miss Ruth Rowe, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor and bridesmaids were the Misses Ann Waller, Linda Payne, Mary Howell, all of Malden, and Miss Ladean Ward of St. Louis.

They were dressed identically in bright maize silk twill floor length gowns designed with circle necklines and tiered sleeves. They wore crownless garten hats of maline trimmed with daisies and velvet streamers in matching maize.

The attendants carried topiary balls of white daisies with handles of gold cord and white satin streamers.

Misses Ginger Ward of Advance, cousin of the bride, and Jean Travaille of Bartlesville, Okla., cousin of the groom, served as flower girls. Ringbearer was Todd Ward of Advance, also a cousin of the bride.

Joseph Nicholas Arends served as best man for his brother and groomsmen were Kent Hobbs of Carbondale, Ill., cousin of the groom; Sam Williams, John Howell, and Rick Downing, all of Malden. Ushers were William Ware, James Wiethan, Michael Stropp and Bob Phillips, all of Malden.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rowe chose a beige ribbon-knit dress of linen and Dacron with which she wore a whimsy hat of poufs of beige veiling and brown and beige lace shoes. Mrs. Arends, mother of the groom, wore a seafoam green crepe sheath with a matching peau shoes. Both mothers wore corsages of white orchids.

The reception was held in the church dining room, following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a white embossed taffeta cloth edged with swags of white net caught up with miniature wedding bells. Centering the table was the four-tiered cake topped with a cluster of wedding bells, flanked by five branched silver candelabra holding lighted white tapers. At each end of the table was a silver punch bowl. Serving the guests were Misses Jeannie and Nancy Kinnison, cousins of the bride, both of Arab; Miss Sally Ware and Miss Lee Payne, Malden. Miss Ruth Ann Coker, Malden, was in charge of the guest book.

For a wedding trip to New Orleans, the bride changed to a pink and white embellished cotton dress and coat ensemble with white accessories and the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Arends will reside at the Carlstrom Apartments 402 North Marion, Malden.

The bride was graduated from Malden high school in 1967 and attended Southeast Missouri State College, Cape Girardeau, for the past year. The groom was graduated from Malden high school in 1965 and attended Southeast Missouri State College two years.

Among the out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rowe, Arab; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Morgan, Poplar Bluff; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Glasner, Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Denny, Puxico; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ward and family, Advance; Mr. and Mrs. Ward Wilfong and Linda, Bloomfield; Mr. and Mrs. Willem Travaille and family, Bartlesville and Mrs. Lurlyne Beard, Dexter.

Homers Dominate Circuit

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ernie Banks, Willie McCovey, Ron Santo, take your 908 career home runs and make way for the new home runs. Slugging Steve Carlton, Clouting Clay Dalrymple and Balting Bob Watson.

Those last four homers boast 68 career homers among them today, which is four more than they had a day ago—or even two months ago at the start of the National League season.

They all cracked their first 1968 homers Wednesday night, while McCovey, Banks and Santo rapped their 13th, 12th and 11th, respectively, in afternoon contests.

Schofield and Carlton connected as St. Louis tripped Atlanta 3-1 in 13 innings.

Dalrymple unloaded to help Philadelphia nip Houston 3-2, while Watson socked his for the Astros in a losing cause.

Banks and Santo got theirs as the Chicago Cubs whipped not scheduled. In the only American League game, Cincinnati 8-4 while McCovey's failed to prevent San Francisco's action, Detroit defeated 8-7 loss to Pittsburgh. The New Minnesota 3-1, Oakland edged York Mets and Los Angeles were Cleveland 1-0 in 11 innings and California topped Boston 4-2 in the first game of a doubleheader. The nightcap was suspended after 5 1/2 innings so the Californians could catch a plane. The score was tied 1-1 and the game will be completed during California's next trip to Boston.

St. Louis and Atlanta were locked in a 1-1 battle through 11 innings with pitcher Carlton's first major league homer the only Cardinal run.

But Schofield, a light-hitting utility infielder who entered the game in the ninth inning, came up for the first time in the 12th and homered off Phil Niekro.

The Cards added an insurance run when pinch hitter Phil Gagliano walked and Lou Brock doubled him home.

By winning, St. Louis increased its league lead to four games over the Giants, 4 1/2 over the Dodgers and five ahead of the Braves.

Tony Gonzalez singled, stole second and scored the winning run on Tony Taylor's two-out single in the eighth inning as Philadelphia edged Houston.

Fishing Fair Around State

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Improved water conditions have made fishing fair in most of Missouri this week, the State Conservation Department reported today.

Many northern Missouri streams are still muddy or murky, but most southern hill country streams are clear. Lakes are generally clear and normal.

Individual stream conditions:

Mississippi — Upper end in good condition, drum fair to good, channel cat fair, white bass fair to good near Saverton Dam, lower end high and muddy.

Salt-Clear, white bass and crappie fair, drum good.

Osage — Dinky, crappie and catfish fair in upper river, white bass and crappie fair lower river.

Big Niangua — Clear, black bass and goggle-eye fair.

Big Piney — Clear, fair all species.

Current and Eleven Point—Clear, fair to good for goggleeye and black bass.

Lake of the Ozarks — Osage arm dinky to Horsehoe Bend, some dinky water in lower Niangua and lower Glaize arms.

Missouri — Slightly flush and dinky, rough fish fair to good on setlines.

St. Francis and Castor—Clear, fair all species.

James — Dinky, black bass, goggle-eye and channel cat fair to good.

Elk — Clear, goggle-eye and black bass fair to good.

Individual lake conditions:

Bull Shoals — Clear, crappie fair to good at night, black bass fair early and late on topwater lures, bluegill good, walleye good below dock.

Taneycomo — Clear, black bass and bluegill fair lower portion, trout good.

Table Rock — Clear, channel cat and crappie fair, black bass good at night, bluegill good.

Clearwater — Clear, fair all species.

Wappapello — Clear, fair for black bass.

If You Were the Judge Unlicensed Americans Free to Take Pictures

By JACK STRAUSS, L.L.B.

To the consternation of picture takers in Podunk, taking a picture was no "snap." A city law was passed that required photographers to obtain a photographer's license before being able to utter those traditional words: "Watch the birdie."

Taking a negative view of the negative law, several professional photographers focused their lenses on the law in court where they attacked its validity.

"Taking a portrait is an art," they argued. "While a city can pass laws, it has no right to pass on what a photographer does." "That's not so," was the answer. "A city has the duty to protect the public. And, in this case, licensing of photographers is necessary to protect the public from bad workmanship, false advertising and other unscrupulous practices. Even in art, the line has to be drawn somewhere."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you uphold the validity of the law?

This is how the judge ruled: No! The judge held that while a law can be passed to protect the public health, morals, safety and general welfare, photography is an innocuous occupation with no unusual reason for specific regulation. Without such a reason, concluded the judge, the law is an unconstitutional invasion of a person's freedom to conduct a harmless and lawful business.

(Based upon a 1964 Colorado Supreme Court Decision.)

Dear Editor:

But for the shocking tragedy the night following his sensational primary victories in California and South Dakota, Senator Robert F. Kennedy was the probable nominee of his party for President. I feel the Democratic Party should nominate for President either able Senator Edward M. Kennedy or Sargent Shriver, Jr., U. S. Ambassador to France, both stalwarts throughout the 1960 John F. Deidre Harber Leaves For Missionary Work

Miss Deidre Harber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Harber, 747 North Ranney St., arrived Saturday in Guam to do missionary work this summer.

Miss Harber and Miss Marjorie Reed, Fairfield, Ill., left St. Louis June 5 and spent one night in Hawaii before going to Guam.

The girls will be in the Philippines for six weeks teaching in the public schools, helping in revival and orientating the beginning class in English.

Hong Kong, Tokyo and San Francisco will be visited by the girls when they return home about the middle of August.

Miss Harber graduated from Sikeston High school in 1966 and is attending the University of Missouri, Columbia, where she is majoring in social studies in secondary education. She is a member of the North Acres General Baptist church of United Association.

"A CITIZEN WHEREVER WE SERVE"

Charleston: Home of New Schools And Governor Warren E. Hearnes

CHARLESTON - The city of Charleston has two factors which set it apart from any other city in the state: it is the hometown of Missouri's governor and it has the most modern high school facility in Missouri.

Gov. Warren E. Hearnes was born in Charleston and maintains a residence here. He attended Charleston public schools.

The new high school, which cost $1,491,844, has become a showcase institution for its design and the use of team teaching techniques.

The 80,000 square foot building has about 50 rooms and a student capacity of 1,000.

Photographs and exhibits of the high school were accepted for display at the American Association of School Administrators annual meeting at Atlantic City, N. J., and the facility has been the subject of articles in magazines of wide circulation.

The building was designed by Pearce and Pearce Inc. of St. Louis. R. Clinton Construction Company of Sikeston was the general contractor.

The school district also has a new kindergarten facility which cost about $70,000. Pearce and Pearce were the architects and Ralph Spears Construction Company of Dexter was the contractor.

Improvements to the Charleston R-1 school district continue to be made. Residents of the district passed a $580,000 bond issue for construction of an elementary school to replace Eugene Field and Mark Twain elementary schools. Pupils from Wyatt Washington and Lincoln elementary schools will also use the new facility.

Charleston also has a parochial school system, St. Henry's, which has elementary and high school facilities.

Residents point with pride to their new high school and the fact that Charleston is the home of Governor Hearnes. But these are just two highlights. There are many more.

The city has many beautiful homes, whose owners take great care in keeping their yards in attractive conditions. Flowers are abundant throughout the town and the city has many tree-lined streets.

The city is also the county seat of Mississippi County. The court house is here.

It is also the largest community in the county, with a population of about 6,000.

Transportation facilities serving Charleston are good. The community is located on Interstate 57, which, when completed, will provide four-lane pavement from Chicago to Sikeston, linking at Sikeston with Interstate 55.

Charleston is served by the Missouri Pacific Railroad and several truck lines and is 10 miles west of the Mississippi River barge terminal facilities at Cairo, Ill.

The largest industry in Charleston is the Brown Shoe

Company plant, which employs about 400 persons and produces about one million shoes annually.

The city is in the heart of the rich Mississippi River delta farmland, and agriculture and its related services account for a large part of the economy of Charleston.

The community is the headquarters of the Mississippi County Historical Society, which maintains a museum and art gallery at the old Russell Hotel.

Charleston was laid off by a surveyor in 1837 and had an original area of 16.35 acres, which included 12 blocks of 10 lots each with 66-foot-wide streets.

By 1880 it had a population of 1,028, and by 1910 the population had increased to 3,144.

During the War between the States Charleston was occupied by Union forces and several minor skirmishes were fought here. A few miles away, at Belmont, on the Mississippi River, General U. S. Grant fought a bloody battle which closed the campaign of 1861.

The attitude and needs of the community can best be described by quoting from a city brochure prepared by the Chamber of Commerce:

"Charleston and Mississippi County in the mid-20th century are a community in the grip of tremendous technological change, as agriculture has mechanized, throwing hundreds of former agricultural workers off the farms. Steps are being taken through education to retrain these people in skills needed by non-agricultural and new agricultural industries.

"Finding jobs for these people is probably the worst problem facing the community today."

The brochure continues: "Charleston has no secret. It needs an industry -- perhaps many small industries, and it has determined to seek such industry."

"Charleston has the advantages to offer interested parties and concerns. It is prepared in spirit and in economic resources to offer opportunity to men who mean business in the matter of expanding, or relocating their industrial operations. Charleston has the natural resources, the electric power, natural gas, abundant water, transportation and manpower to build anything from a battleship to a mousetrap."

The brochure is entitled "Opportunity Unlimited."

This phrase is a good description of the community, which has demonstrated its civic pride and willingness to progress by providing its young people with the educational facilities which will enable them to acquire the knowledge and skills which are so vital in attracting new industry.

Samples of Cotton May Be Identified

HAYTI - Cotton producers may request Smith-Doxey sampling agents to identify the variety of each sample of the 1968 crop submitted for classification.

Paul W. Karban, officer in charge of the United States Division of Agriculture cotton classing office says this may be done in any one of the following ways:

1. By placing a special color tag on the sack of samples.
 2. By entering the variety on a tag placed on the outside or inside of the sack.
 3. By placing a drop tag showing the variety in each sample.
 4. By entering the variety on the form I memorandum (green card) under the gin name and address provided the following wording is printed, stamped or written on the card: "Producer states variety to be..."
- If the form I Memorandum method is used, the sampling agent must include the following statement on each green card: "Producer states variety to be..."
- The cotton division assumes no responsibility for the variety shown on the green card.
- If further information is desired, the cotton classing office at 1010 East Highway 84 may be contacted.

The motto on many U.S. post offices, "Neither snow, nor rain, nor heat, nor gloom of night stays these couriers from the swift completion of their appointed rounds," was written by the Greek historian, Herodotus, to describe the mounted couriers of King Xerxes of Persia, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Can We Wave the Flag Too Much?

by SIDNEY L. DeLOVE

Is it possible to wave the flag too much? Provided, of course, that you wave it with integrity? Is it possible to study Lincoln or Shakespeare too much? Is it possible to read the Bible too much? ★ The great, the good, the true, are inexhaustible for inspiration, example and strength. I believe that we are not waving our flag enough, not nearly enough ★ It seems to me that we are developing a tendency to be timid or even apologetic about waving the stars and stripes. Walk up and down the streets on July 4th and count the flags. It is our nation's birthday, a sacred day in world history, the most important day of America. Why isn't the flag flying on every rooftop and from every home and building? This complacent attitude is strong evidence of cancerous patriotic decay. The flag is a symbol of our national unity. It is the spirit of our undying devotion to our country. It stands for the best that is in us... for loyalty, character, and faith in democracy ★ Isn't our flag a synonym of the United States of America? Does it not represent man's greatest, noblest, most sublime dream? Is it not the zenith of achievement, the goal to which generations have aspired? ★ Ladies and gentlemen, I believe it is time for us... for the mad, rushing Twentieth Century American... to stop for a moment and think. Let us arrest our near reverential admiration of material success and return to the spiritual and ethical values. Let us imbue and rekindle in ourselves and our children the so-called old-fashioned way of patriotism, a burning devotion to the principles and ideals upon which our country was founded ★ Should not every home own and proudly display the colors on holidays and other such occasions? Isn't the flag Patrick Henry, Jefferson, Franklin, Washington, Nathan Hale, Gettysburg and Valley Forge, Paul Revere, Jackson and other great men and women who have given us our heritage. When you look at the flag can't you see the Alamo, Corregidor, Pearl Harbor, The Monitor and The Merrimack? Lest we forget, isn't the flag Flanders Field, Bataan, Iwo Jima, Normandy, Babe Ruth and Davy Crockett? The great events of our past and present are wrapped up in our flag ★ It is a symbol of this blessed nation, a giant in industry, education and commerce. Millions of fertile square miles, wheatlands, coal mines, steel plants. Our great republic, the chosen infant destined to be man's last remaining hope for suffering humanity, a shining beacon of light, noble and glorious, the haven for the oppressed and persecuted and truly God's gift to mankind ★ That is what the flag means to me. Can we wave it too much? I don't think so.

Reply of S. L. DeLove on the Know Your History Hour, December 30th, 1956, to a listener who wrote as follows: "Your programs are wonderful — but you are waving the flag too much."

The above is reprinted and narrated annually in hundreds of national magazines, newspapers and radio stations, and is a part of the Congressional Record.

Dr. DeLove is the author of The Quiet Betrayal and president of Independence Hall of Chicago.

Ann Landers

Costumes of Young Carry Message

Dear Ann Landers: Please, up in it but I didn't say anything. The kid who took me out Saturday night wore a shirt with a ruffled collar and cuffs. I thought it was his mother's.

When I asked where he got it he said it belonged to his brother. "I couldn't afford anything as nifty as this," he announced.

The pants are getting tighter and the hair is getting longer and the clothes are getting fancier. Do boys want to be girls or what? Please tell me. I am beginning to wonder what all this means. — MISS ?????

Dear Miss: Marshall McLuhan says clothes these days are not clothes but costumes. People are dressing for the roles they play. I believe he has a message.

The more bizarre the outfit, the more desperate the "actor." People who are well balanced are not compelled to do everything short of set their hair on fire to attract attention. And for those of you who have already reached for your ballpoints to tell this square old lady what's "in," save your stamps. I know what's in and I wouldn't wear some of the so-called "in" styles to a skunk raffle.

Dear Ann Landers: I have had so much well-meaning advice my head is spinning. Please help me settle something that has been bugging me for months.

I am 26 and engaged to a man who is 41. Phil will have to pay alimony and child support (two children) for 11 more years. He has a good job and says he is in line for several promotions, which will mean more money.

Do you have any statistics on the prospects of promotion after 40? Also what is the average earning capacity of a man in this age group? Has he reached his peak? If he should leave the country are there any laws that will bring him back should he decide he does not want to pay alimony and child support? (His ex-wife's family has money.)

We have had some talks and Phil tells me he has three bank accounts under different names. Is this legal? Could his ex-wife get her hands on anything if she should learn of this and he is behind in his payments? How can I find out for certain what he is making and how much money he has in the bank? P.S. Phil is a pleasant person and we enjoy each other's company. — BROWN EYED SUSAN

Dear Susan: That faint praise with which you damned poor Phil takes your letter out of the human relations category and makes it a financial inquiry. You shouldn't have written to Ann Landers, Dearie, you should have written to Dunn and Bradstreet. The whole thing sounds like forget it and I hope you will — for Phil's sake as well as yours.

What awaits you on the other side of the marriage veil? How can you be sure your marriage will work? Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage — What To Expect." Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

FAMOUS LAST... BALTIMORE (AP) — As the boatload of U.S. Jaycees approached Fort McHenry during a tour of Baltimore Harbor, the commentator told them the fort is one of the few places in the nation where the flag flies 24 hours a day.

The band played "The Star-Spangled Banner." The Jaycees rushed to the rail to look. No flag was flying over the fort. A call later determined that the flagpole was being painted that night.

SIDE GLANCES By Gill Fox

"Do I look all right to you, Eleanor? I don't seem to hate ANY politicians this morning!"

Today In U.S. History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, June 14, the 166th day of 1968. There are 200 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1940, the Germans occupied Paris in World War II.

On this date: In 1777, the Second Continental Congress in Philadelphia adopted the Stars and Stripes as the American flag.

In 1811, the author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," Harriet Beecher Stowe, was born.

In 1934, Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini met in Vienna.

In 1941, President Franklin D. Roosevelt issued an order freezing German and Italian assets in the United States.

In 1944, in the Pacific war, U.S. forces invaded Saipan Island in the Marianas.

In 1957, military officers in Haiti ousted President Daniel Fignole after he had been in office only 19 days.

Ten years ago, France agreed to a partial withdrawal from French military posts in Morocco.

Five years ago, the Soviet Union sent its fifth cosmonaut into space.

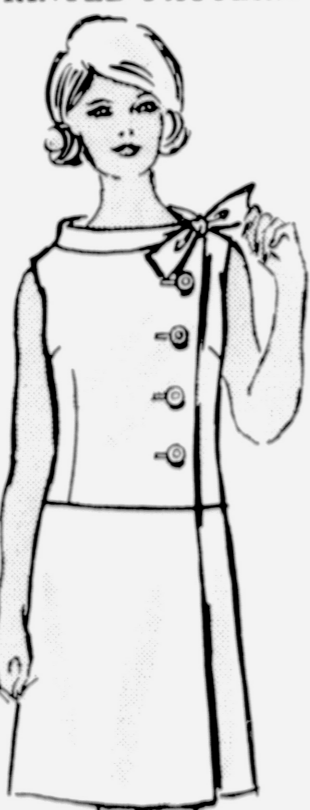

One year ago, the U.N. Security Council rejected a Soviet resolution calling for a pullback of Israeli troops from Arab territory.

FOR WHAT IT COSTS TO TRADE IN YOUR CAR, YOU CAN AIR CONDITION YOUR ENTIRE HOME

The thousand dollars or more you'll spend to trade in your car is more than enough to centrally air condition a three-bedroom home... with bigger and more lasting benefits!

You sleep sounder on the muggiest nights. Appetites perk up. There's less cleaning and laundering. Furnishings and interiors look better, last longer. You'll be a happier, heartier, healthier family.

And unlike a new car which depreciates the minute you get it, American-Standard "air of good living" adds value to your house. Call us for a free survey!

ARMED FORCES

BLYTHEVILLE AFB, Ark. — Blytheville Air Force Base will be closed to the general public Monday, June 17. The temporary closing will be in conjunction with a six-hour practice wartime mission exercise simulating enemy nuclear attack conditions.

In announcing the exercise, nicknamed "Buckskin Rider", Colonel Eugene D. Minietta, 97th Bomb Wing Commander, said, "The base will be closed to the general public except for Contract Workers and normal delivery service to the base."

Colonel Minietta requested that individuals not assigned to or working at the base refrain from visiting during the disaster exercise.

The entire exercise will be confined to Blytheville Air Force Base. The main gate will be the only base entrance point.

Base sirens will be used to "warn" of various simulated wartime emergency situations.

During the exercise the commissary, base exchange, service station, library, service club, recreational facilities and cleaners will be closed. The commissary warehouse will remain open for issue of reations to troops.

Purpose of the "Buckskin Rider" exercise is to test a base's capability of launching its forces under adverse conditions of enemy attack.

"Most phases of the exercise are simulated," explained Colonel Minietta, "however base exercise judges and referees will strive to make various situations as realistic as possible."

More Revenues for Cities Discussed at Meeting

DEXTER - A state pension plan for possible adoption by cities, re-evaluation of real property assessments, and ways and means of cities obtaining more revenue through taxation were among topics discussed Tuesday at the regional division meeting of the Missouri Municipal League.

During an election of officers, Robert Riley, mayor of New Madrid, was named president. Mayor L. A. Nowak of Jackson was elected vice president and Dr. Harry C. Goddard, a member of the Kennett city council, was named secretary.

Attending from Cape Girardeau were City Councilman J. Hugh Logan, outgoing president of regional division 12; Mayor A. Robert Pierce, and Harry E. Andrews, city assessor. Andrews said Mayor Willis Conner of Dexter spoke briefly, extending the welcome, and President Logan presided.

Don Beatty, Jefferson City, acting executive secretary of the Missouri Local Government Employees Retirement System and a member of the league staff, conducted the workshop and discussion on the pension program open to cities for municipal employees.

Real property assessments were discussed by Judge Hunter Phillips, chairman of the State Tax Commission in Jefferson City. His remarks were keyed to re-evaluation on the county level which would also be reflected in city assessments.

Jay T. Bell, executive director of the league, reported on progress of statewide programs to solve the municipal finance problems of many cities.

She said one of the best means of cities obtaining more revenue from taxes would be for the state to increase its sales tax with a refund to the cities.

Two Seek Representation On DAEOC Board

PORTAGEVILLE - The city council of Kennett and the Delmo Housing Agency petitioned the Delta Area Economic Opportunity Corp., meeting in a board session Monday night, for representation on the board of directors.

Charles Fleer, executive director of DAEOC, reports that the petitions were presented in writing and that the board - with the required representation from the six - county area for government, social services and the poor already seated - made two decisions in regard to the three representatives - at large which have not yet been determined.

Former Perkins Man Dies

ORAN - A former Perkins resident, Val Machino, 81, died Tuesday in Belle Chasse, La.

Machino, a dragline operator until his retirement in 1952, moved from Perkins in 1927.

In 1912, he married Miss Lulu Becklund, who survives.

He is also survived by a daughter, Mrs. Rudolph McBride, Port Sulphur, La.; a sister, a brother, a grandchild, and a great-grandchild.

Graveside services were conducted Friday afternoon at 2 at Williams Memorial Cemetery in Perkins by the Rev. H. M. Andrews, Methodist minister from Scott City with the Smith Funeral Home of Oran in charge.

The Prayer from The Upper Room

Faith, by itself, if it has no works, is dead. (James 2:17, RSV)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, who hast given to us the privilege of coming close to Thee through prayer, may we realize the joy and the power that come with daily use of this divine gift. So change and enrich our lives that other persons may be led into fellowship with Thee. In the name of Christ, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven... Amen."

A Tribute... To Fathers

There's an old saying that "mother knows best." Well, it seems to us that Father, bless him, should come in for some compliments, too, once in a while. It is true, of course, that upon mother's patient shoulders rests the upbringing of the children. And that is as it should be. But let's not forget that Pa is generally the family breadwinner and it is up to him to pay the bills. When day is done and he comes home, make things as cheery and loving as you can. Have a nice dinner ready. Lay out his slippers and his beloved pipe. Show him how much you love him by being kind and considerate. He may not tell you how he appreciates these attentions. But he will... as all good fathers do!

Malden Strike Ends

MALDEN - A protest strike by 13 employees of the board of public works in effect since Friday was settled at 10 a.m. Wednesday with the negotiations taking place between city officials and the striking workers in the office of the board of public works.

Included in, and prior to, the negotiations was the resignation of W. A. Smith, manager of the city plant.

The board met Tuesday night and again at 8 a.m. today to hear the grievances of the 13 employees. According to Val Mitchell, chairman of the board, the grievances had to do with general operations of the plant and working conditions under the manager. Also involved was the firing of one employee and the resignation of another, who testified he quit his job under pressure.

Chairman Mitchell reported that all strikers have been re-instated on their jobs and the management of the plant has been placed temporarily under the three general division foremen - Clair Bullard, electrical division; Lloyd Stone, power plant; and Bob Templeton, water and sewer division.
